State's Plans for S-92 Challenged By Elected Officials and Residents

Elected officials and ordinary citizens, of both Montgomery and Princeton, attacked the Department of Transportation's Draft Environmental Impact Statement (DEIS) on proposed S-92 and the western relocation of Route 206 in a five-hour public hearing Monday evening.

Speaker after speaker challenged the assumptions and conclusions in the multi-volume DEIS, using phrases like "seriously flawed," "a colossal failure," and "wholly inadequate." Many called for revision of all or part of the study, citing inconsistencies, faulty technical analysis, and outdated or outmoded baseline data from which conclusions were reached.

One theme, repeated many times in the course of the evening, stated that study of the S-92 project impacts had been "illegally segmented" from completed Route 1 and Route 206 studies as well as the pending Somerset Expressway study. One speaker, sounding this theme, urged incorporation of all these studies into one, so that the public could properly evaluate the impacts.

Princeton Borough and Township officials managed to get themselves at the top of the list of some 75 individuals who signed up to be heard. Borough Mayor Sigmund commented on the longstanding need for S-92. Township Mayor Gail Firestone read the S-92 highway policy statement arrived at jointly at a post-midnight session of Council and Committee last Thursday.

The joint statement asserts that S-92 is "urgently needed" and that the "no-build" alternative is "unacceptable to the Princetons." It goes on to endorse scheme 6 along the Princeton-Montgomery border and to request a road-

Calton Homes' Settlement Will Allow for 393 Units; Close to 82 Acres to Be Preserved as Open Space

A site plan for the White property that will allow Calton Homes to construct 393 dwelling units — including 87 for lower-income families — will be unveiled to the public this Wednesday evening.

The unveiling, and an explanation of proposed changes in the Township's affordable housing plan (see related story) will take place at a special meeting of the Planning Board in the Valley Road building, starting at 7:30 p.m. Comments from the public will not be taken at this meeting, but full public hearings will be scheduled in January to allow time apart from the holidays for individuals and groups to develop whatever response they wish to make.

At a press briefing Tuesday morning, the plan was described as a collaborative effort, reached over many months of negotiation between the developer and a team of Township and Planning officials, staff and consultants. Among the key elements are these:

• The historic Revolutionary War "Overlook" site, about 10 acres along Route 206, will be donated to either the Township or the state for historic preservation. This is the spot from which British soldiers en route to Trenton looked over their shoulders and caught sight of American militia moving through the trees across Stony Brook — the sighting that initiated The Battle of Princeton, January 3, 1777.

• A large area of woods and floodplain along Stony Brook will be preserved.

• Development of the White Farm itself, the historic mansion built by an ancestor of a Signer of the Declaration of Independence, and several later farm buildings, will be prevented by a deed restriction placed on some 28 acres immediately surrounding the farm. Ownership will remain with Mrs. Louie White.

• Sixty-four percent of the entire site, or close to 82 acres, will remain as open space. The amount closely parallels the 66 percent open space that was negotiated in the Princeton Ridge settlement agreement and is higher than any recently approved site plan and subdivision.

Four different types of residential units are proposed in the site plan:

• Forty-one single family homes clustered on three-quarter acre lots on 12 acres at the top of the site off Route 206.

• Fifty townhouse units in nine groups of four-six units each on six acres immediately across the access road from the single family homes.

• One hundred and ten "upscale" villa townhouses, also in six-unit groupings, scattered across 15 acres along the border the property shares with Toll Brothers' Heatherstone development.

• An apartment complex called "multiplex," consisting of eight three-story buildings on 12 acres. There would be 192 units in this complex, 87 of which would be set aside for lower-income individuals and families. Management of these units would be under the jurisdiction of the Township's Housing Trust as set up under the affordable housing program.

The apartment complex would not be visible from Route 206 or from Mercer Street, it was pointed out, because it will be set low on the site and surrounded by the wooded floodplain area on one side, the deed restricted White Farm on another, and the historic Battlefield extension site on still another.

There would be a single road crossing the site from Stockton Street to Mercer Road, from which smaller roads and cul-de-sacs provide

Palmer Sqare Tenants Are Notified of Plans To Convert to Condos

The long-anticipated conversion of Palmer Square West apartments to condominium ownership has now begun. Last week, the Collins Corporation notified all Palmer Square tenants of its intention to convert the 107 rental units to condominiums.

In response, Princeton Borough is offering the services of Rent Registration Coordinator Linda Feldstein to help those tenants who qualify for protection under State law.

Special protection is offered to persons who are over age 62 or disabled and who have been living in the units for two years. Their annual income way with a profile which closely follows the existing ground line, and with certain design features in keeping with the character of the community.

Bunn Drive Connection. The relocation of Route 206 within Princeton, either over the Princeton Ridge or through the Princeton Community Mount Laurel housing project, was strongly opposed, as was interchange with Mount Lucas Road. Instead, an interchange with Bunn Drive is recommended as a substitute.

The Bunn Drive connection was arrived at by the Township Engineer Robert V. Kiser and Gary Davies of Garmen Associates, traffic consultants to the Planning Board. It envisions two-lane Bunn Drive being extended to Herrontown Road and then curving west to parallel the S-92 alignment along the Princeton-Montgomery border.

It would function as a service road, providing on-grade access to and from S-92, as well as a connection to Cherry Valley Road at Route 206. No direct connection is proposed by the DOT between S-92 and Route 206 at the Cherry Valley Road intersection.

The Bunn Drive proposal also envisions no western relocation of Route 206 into Princeton Township. Instead, there would be a collector road to link Cherry Valley Road, at a point further west, to Route 206 near Orchard Road. This proposal is in keeping with Montgomery's intention of providing such a collector road with developers' contributions to serve its office zone. It would more or less follow the alignment of the DOT's proposed western relocation of Route 206, but it would not extend beyond Cherry Valley Road south into Princeton Township.

Traffic Projections. Speaking at the DOT public hearing, Gary Davies remarked that there was a "reasonably close" correlation between DOT's traffic projections in the DEIS and the traffic projections of his own firm. "The need for S-92 is clearly seen," Mr. Davies said, "and is clearly endorsed by the Princetons."

However, he said the western relocation of Route 206 as proposed would "severely impair the possible benefits" the highway might have and needed revision. He said he and the Township staff had looked at some 11 alternatives before coming up with the Bunn Road connection.

He listed among the benefits of extending Bunn Drive to Route 92 and Route 206, the opening of an additional corridor into town, the servicing of Princeton Township's OR zone without impacting residential areas, and the establishment of a "circumferential" road network. He said the proposal would reduce traffic volumes on Mt. Lucas and Cherry Valley Roads by 46 and 49 per-

Proposed Revisions to Master Plan in Township Include Reductions in Affordable Housing Sites

Elimination of certain affordable housing sites in the Township, and reduced densities in others, are being put forward as a result of the proposed Calton Homes settlement agreement. The modifications also reflect the lower fair share number assigned to the Township by the Affordable Housing Council.

These proposed modifications will be outlined to the public by the Planning Board in an information session this Wednesday evening. The special meeting is scheduled to begin at 7:30 in the Valley Road building meeting room. Comments from the public will not be taken at this time, according to Planning Board officials, but public hearings will be scheduled in January on these revisions to the Housing Element of the Master Plan.

In outlining the proposed modifications in a press briefing last Tuesday morning, Planning Director Duggan Kimball pointed out that the Township's 1984 affordable housing program was developed on the basis of a fair share obligation of 650 low and moderate income units in a six-year period. Certain sites throughout the community were designated RH (residential high density) or RM (moderate density) as the locations for these units.

RH sites were to be developed by the Township — or by a private non-profit agency such as Princeton Community Housing under contract to the Township — at a density of 12 units to the acre. It was specified that half the units would be sold at market rates, generating a profit which, instead of going to a developer, would subsidize the other half for lower income families.

Larger areas in the western half of the Township were designated RM, in the understanding that when these properties became available for development they would be developed at 3.25 units an acre. The ordinance mandated a 22 percent set-aside for affordable housing, clustering of all units, and 50 percent open space.

The whole program on all the RM and RH sites was designed to yield 650 lower income units along with an estimated 1,800 market units. There was public outcry over the density and location of many of the sites, and promises by the Planning Board and Township Committee to re-evaluate the sites once the fair share number was known.

TOPICS Of The Town

Changes in Compliance. There have been changes in the affordable housing compliance picture since 1984. The Affordable Housing Council set up by the state legislature has assigned the Township the fair share number of 275. The Supreme Court's Mt. Laurel III decision requires judges hearing Mt. Laurel cases to honor these numbers.

PCH is well on the way toward the development of the Peterson tract, an RH site which it is calling Herrontown Green, to yield 140 lower income units and 140 market units. These factors led a site selection committee of the Planning Board to recommend the following changes in the affordable housing sites:

- Elimination of the Sewer Operating property and the Johnson Park School property as RH sites.
- Down zoning of the narrow seven-acre "little" Arcaro tract from RH to RM, so that it could be incorporated into the neighboring big Arcaro tract (55 acres) as an RM site.
- Retention of the Shopping Center site (approximately nine acres) as an RH site, but with a reduction in density to eight units per acre.
- Continued negotiation with Princeton University for development of eight acres east of the Butler apartments and other acreage on West Drive for what Mr. Kimball calls an "indeterminate" number of units to complete the 275 fair share number.

In addition, these changes are proposed for the RM tracts on the western side of the Township:

- A return to the base density in the original zoning. Most of the tracts had two-acre minimum zoning before it was changed to 3.5 units per acre under the affordable housing program.
- Retention of the present mandatory clustering and mandatory 50 percent open space provisions, with the Township mapping the areas to be developed and to be reserved.
- The setting aside of 10 percent of each tract as an RH site, with the Township specifying where this area would be located. Like the other RH sites, this RH area within the RM tract would be developed by the Township or its designee at a density of eight dwelling units per acre. Half the units would be market-priced, half for lower income families.

If the Township agrees, the developer could contribute cash in lieu of building the RH units on the RM site, as is currently possible. Mr. Kimball says that based on the PCH experience, this amount is currently calculated at $24,000 a unit.

In return, the developer would receive a 25% increase in the number of market units that could be built on the RM site. To illustrate, Mr. Kimball cited the 90-acre Lambert tract off Province Line Road as an example. The property was designated RM in 1984, and if it were to become available for development, it would have to be developed under the RM zoning.

Under the modifications being proposed, 56 market units could be built, including the 25% bonus increase above the base density which would permit 45 units. Nine acres would be dedicated to the Township for the affordable housing program, on which, at eight units to the acre, 72 units could be built. Half the units would be market priced, half for affordable housing.

The total number of units on this 90-acre property would be 128, at a gross density of 1.42 units an acre. This is a reduction from the present RM density of 3.5 units.

Mr. Kimball presented three scenarios of how the Township expects to arrive at its 275 fair share number. In each scenario the Peterson tract accounts for 154 units (140 plus a bonus of 14 granted by the Affordable Housing Council), because, as he puts it, that development is coming "into fruition." Calton Homes-White Farm accounts for 87, but if the agreement fails to be approved at the municipal level, or by the judge, one scenario shows 36 units being provided on the Lambert property.

Two scenarios show the University as making up the missing balance; the third shows 36 units on the Shopping Center property.

access to areas of development. Two tennis courts would be provided, and there are hopes that a large detention basin in a corner near Mercer Street could double as a soccer field or baseball diamond.

Calton Homes has agreed to pay close to $1 million to the sewer trust fund, a figure calculated on infiltration and inflow (I and I) removal costs. These funds will be used to bring the Mountain Brook trunkline to a point across Stony Brook from the site, and the developer will also pay to continue the trunk line across the brook to his site and for the necessary pumping station.

Negotiations are still pending on the dollar amount that the developer will contribute to whatever road improvements may be necessary. Traffic study figures show that Mercer Road east of the site will be the most severely impacted by the proposed development, with an increase of 136 vehicles per hour at the evening peak hour. This is a nine percent increase over existing conditions, it was pointed out.

The Calton Homes settlement agreement will have to be approved by Township Committee and by the Planning Board after public hearings before both bodies. According to Planning Board attorney Gerald J. Muller, it is the intention of the Board and Committee that the settlement agreement, along with the Township's revised affordable housing plan, will be presented to Judge Eugene Serpentelli for approval.

Ever since the Affordable Housing Council was created by state legislation in 1985, municipalities have had the option of taking their affordable housing litigation to the Council instead of to one of the three judges assigned by the Supreme Court to hear suits arising out of the 1983 Mt. Laurel II decision.

Ronald Reisner, special attorney for the Township in the Calton Homes litigation, cited uncertainty as to the Council's rules as the reason for not going that route.

Conditions to Agreement. According to Mr. Muller, Calton Homes has agreed to a number of conditions in the proposed agreement. Among them are:

- that the developer will support the Township's affordable housing plan and its fair share number before Judge Serpentelli;
- that the plan is contingent upon the Judge approving the plan and agreeing that the Township's fair share number is 275;

- that the Township is given a "certificate of repose" by the Judge for six years, requiring no additional lower-income units during that period of time;
- that the civil suit brought by Calton Homes against the Township, the Planning Board, Mayor Winthrop S. Pike, Township Attorney Edwin Schmierer and Township Committee members Gail Firestone and William Cherry be dropped. This suit sought damages from these boards and individuals charging "tortious interference" in the developer's negotiations to purchase the Princeton Ridge property from Dravo Corp.

In listing the advantages to the Township of the agreement, Mr. Reisner cited the good site plan with its many advantages in terms of preserving open space and historic areas and the provision of affordable housing in a different part of town. The Planning Board Chairman spoke of the lengthy process of arriving at a "quality" site plan and said the hours were well spent.

Richard Collier of Wallace Robert and Todd, planning consultants to the Planning Board, called the site plan "a tremendously exciting opportunity for Princeton." He cited the amount of open space and the variety of housing types that will be built. Vice Chairman Margen Penick praised Calton Homes for their "genuine effort to be responsive to historic aspects of the site."

At 393 residential units, the development is the largest ever proposed in the Township and may require additional staff to oversee the construction.

Drug Testing Approved

A measure to establish standards for drug testing by public and private employers bas been approved by the state Assembly. It will now go to the Senate.

The bill would require employers to inform workers, in writing and at least 30 days in advance of the first test, of the firm's drug testing policies. It would also require, in most cases, that private and public employers have a "reasonable suspicion" that drug use is affecting an individual's performance. An exception would apply to workers in "high-risk" occupations.

Results of the tests, according to the bill's sponsors, would be kept confidential. Any employee who refuses to take the drug test could face disciplinary action or dismissal.

Residency Bill Advances

An Assembty panel has approved a measure requiring all top decision-makers and officials working for the state to live in New Jersey. It would affect the governor, Cabinet members, legislators and judges.

The measure has bipartisan support and the backing of Gov. Thomas H. Kean.

Panel OKs School Intervention

An Assembly committee has voted unanimously to empower New Jersey education officials to intervene in troubled school districts. This opens up the possibility that the Trenton district, which has failed the first level of the state's three-step monitoring process, could be taken over in several years.

The legislation would permit the state Board of Education, at the recommendation of the Education Commissioner, to abolish the local school board and appoint a new school superintendent if a district repeatedly fails to meet state standards.

Harsher Penalties for Drug Sellers

A measure that would impose a mandatory prison term on anyone convicted of selling drugs to a minor, or within a thousand feet of a school building, has been released by the Assembly Judiciary Committee.

The legislation had been approved in the Senate with a mandatory five-year term. It will now be returned to the Senate for concurrence on the amendment.

Governor Vetoes Compulsory History Course

Gov. Thomas Kean has vetoed legislation that would have required high school students in the state to study the history of New Jersey and its government. "I firmly believe that local communities should have maximum flexibility in setting their own curriculum policies within the parameters of general requirements," he wrote in his veto message.

The governor also vetoed measures that would have required insurance claims adjusters to be licensed and would have appropriated additional funds for the state Developmental Center at Ancora, a state institution for the mentally handicapped.

Helping Volunteers

The state Assembly has passed two measures to aid volunteer services in the state. The first calls for the state to study and make recommendations for the creation of a pension program for members of volunteer fire companies and first aid and rescue squads.

The second would establish a $2 million loan fund to help

Of the 107 rental units in Palmer Square, 69 are currently occupied. The others have been allowed to become vacant over the past two years, said Borough Councilman Marvin Reed.

Mr. Reed did not know how many of the 69 units were occupied by senior citizens or the handicapped. Patmer Square Vice President Claudette de Clairvitle was uncertain of this number, too, but noted that a fair percentage of tenants have lived there for many years, some as long as 25 or 35.

The apartments range from studios to two-bedroom units and rent for about $350 to about $1,700, said Ms. de Clairville.

Tenants who do not fit into the senior citizen/disabled category are protected for up to three years, said Mr. Reed. "If in the first 18 months a tenant asks Collins to help find comparable housing, and if such housing is not found after three years, the tenant may request five one-year extensions," he added. "We won't be able to publish the cost of the units until we receive authorization from the attorney general to proceed with the sale," said Ms. De Clairville. "That could be in the late spring, and we probably won't come to the public about the condos until then." By state law, all tenants in place are given first option to purchase.

Ms. De Clairville said there was no decision yet on whether Palmer Square would embark on a renovation of the units, which were built in the thirties. She said that many of the apartments are in good condition.

Board Approves Bank On Gas Station Site

The Planning Board has granted site plan approval and variance waivers to permit E.R. Keller Properties to proceed with plans to redevelop the corner of Nassau and Maple Streets for banking use.

Development involves moving a three-story Victorian house that had been saved from demolition across the street and joining it to an unusual stone gas station built in the 1930s and operated as a Gulf Station by Constant ("Frenchy") Gianacci for the past 22 years.

Borough Mayor Barbara Sigmund, who played a key role in saving the Victorian house and later sponsoring an "adopt-a-house" ordinance in the Borough that relaxes certain zoning standards to encourage historic preservation, said she looked forward to the "wedding" of the two structures.

"I think this is a fantastic project," Mayor Sigmund said. "I know it has already won an architectural award, and I think it should win a good will prize as well." Neighbors generally approved the plans, but were divided as to whether right turns only or both left and right turns exiting the two drive-up teller windows, would help or make worse traffic congestion on the "tree" streets. Such matters of traffic control are the jurisdiction of Borough Council on advice of Borough police, it was noted.

Earlier the traffic consultant retained by E.R. Keller had maintained that the proposed development would add 33 vehicles to Nassau Street traffic, an increase of about three percent of the present volume. It was pointed out that Davidson's will add 190 cars when it moves into the former Volvo dealership across the street.

Planning Board vice chairman Richard Henkel criticized the proposed landscape design, saying it was inadequate and should be redone by a professional landscape architect. The proposal had been reviewed on several occasions by the Borough Historic Preservation Review Committee, and there was much discussion about window, door and shingle detailing to retain the historicity of the frame house.

The vote to approve was unanimous, with one abstention.

Two Licenses Suspended In Township Court Hearing

Two Princeton residents had their driver's licenses suspended Thursday in Township court.

Glenn Reitzel, 17 Dempsey Avenue, charged with driving while intoxicated and speeding, lost his license for two years. He was fined $515 plus a $100 surcharge and sentenced to 30 days' Community Service by Judge Sydney Souter and 48 hours in the Intoxicated Drivers' Resource Center. The two charges against Mr. Reitzel were merged into one.

Louise P. Forer, 113 Dempsey, was fined $515 and had her license suspended for six months. Her charges of driving while her license was suspended and no insurance were also merged by the court.

In Township court earlier in the week, three area drivers were fined $65 each. They are Joann M. Quinlan, 58 Krebs Road, Plainsboro, red light; Schubert C. Chow, 14 Slayback Drive, Princeton Junction, stop sign; and Sylvester Vernon, 175 John Street, improper passing.

Michael J. Nash, 99 Ridgeview Circle, was fined $1,800 and $25 court costs for failure to act on a pool fence violation of a Township pool ordinance.

Bernard Lewis, 167 Hartley Avenue, was fined $50 each on two counts of violating the Township's alarm ordinance.

Borough Court. In Borough traffic court Monday, John M. Kmenra, 327 Clarksville Road, was fined $115 for delaying traffic. Nita Rome, 55 Linwood Circle, paid $70 for improper entering or leaving a highway, and Melinda A. Berko, 05 Opossum Road, Skillman, paid $60 for a red light violation.

Pieter Baruch, 339 Hamilton Avenue, paid two fines: $25 for improper display of plates and $25 for overdue inspection.

In Borough criminal court last week, Parris Daniels, 15 Lytle Street, was fined $65 and $30 to the Violent Crime Compensation Board for theft.

Michael Richards, who has no known address, was fined $40 and $30 VCCB on each of four counts of trespassing and one count of engaging in alarming conduct. He was also fined $25 for loud and unnecessary noise, the latter a violation of a Borough ordinance.

Four Public Hearings Set On Dec. 9 Council Agenda

At its meeting scheduled for Tuesday, December 9, Borough Council was expected to vote on four ordinances involving acquisition of housing and land, library computerization, and the placing of limits on skateboards.

One ordinance would appropriate money for the purchase of eight of Shirley Court's 16 units. These are being bought from Benjamin Kahn for $330,000 and will be renovated and included in the Borough's Affordable Housing program.

A second ordinance would allocate $80,000 to purchase a 100 by 45 foot slice of land behind 94 Spruce Street. This site, facing Hamilton Avenue, is also part of the Borough's housing program.

Council was also expected to vote on an ordinance appropriating $144,000 from the capital budget to finance its share of the $400,000 cost of computerizing the Public Library's circulation system. The full cost of computerization — $400,000 — will be divided between the Borough and Township on the basis of ratables: 63 percent from the Township and 37 percent from the Borough.

Finally, Borough Council will decide whether to ban skateboards from those Borough streets on which bicycle riding is now prohibited. These include, in addition to the north side of Nassau Street between Bank and Moore Streets, both sides of most streets entering the CBD.

Lawrence Man Charged In Burger King Fracas

A Lawrenceville resident, Scott Finney, 29, of Albermarle Road, has been charged with assault, following a disturbance last week at the Burger King on Nassau Street.

According to Lt. Peter Hanley, Finney got into an argument with the manager when he attempted to obtain food with a coupon that was no longer valid. Ptl. Mark Stillitano and Ptl. Curtis Vanchoff responded to a call from an employee reporting the altercation, in which the manager's shirt was ripped.

Police were forced to struggle before subduing Finney, who was charged with simple assault of the manager and Ptl. Stillitano, resisting arrest and disorderly conduct. Lt. Hanley said that none of those involved in the disturbance required medical aid.

Finney was later arraigned before Judge Russell W. Annich Jr., who set bail at $3,500. He was later released, pending his appearance Wednesday in Borough Court.

Residents Charged. Two 19-year-old residents of Redding Circle were charged last week by police, following their arrest at the Wawa Market on University Place.

Paul Granger was charged with shoplifting cupcakes and cans of fruit punch after police responded to a 12:35 call Thursday morning from an employee reporting two suspicious persons inside the store.

Ralph Jackson, who was with Granger, was arrested outside the store and charged with possession of a stolen bicycle. According to Lt. Hanley, Jackson admitted to police that he had stolen the bicycle about a month ago from the Woodrow Wilson School on the university campus.

Both face a December 17 hearing in Borough court.

In the Township, a 15-year-old resident of Lawrenceville has been charged with shoplifting two black wallets worth $26 from Epstein's in the Princetoo Shopping Center.

The youth was apprehended and detained by a store manager, who then turned him over to Township Juvenile Officer Renn Kaminski for processing.

Robert Quarino, 31, of Trenton, has been charged with trespassing for hunting and failure to display a hunting license by an officer of the New Jersey Fish and Game Department.

Quarino was observed last month by Sgt. Anthony Gaylord bow and arrow hunting in a wooded area off White Oak Drive, an area which the officer knew had been posted. He notified the Fish and Game authorities, who charged Quarino.

Stanworth Home Looted Of Items Worth $7,800

A home on Stanworth Drive North was entered last week and looted of jewelry, stereo and television sets valued, police said, "in excess of $7,800."

Taken were two color television sets, a stereo receiver, cassette player, video cassette recorder, microwave oven, a diamond ring set, a ruby ring set, a 14k gold ring and some loose coins. The apartment in the housing tract was entered through a window on the north side that had been forced open.

A home on John Street was entered during a four-week period while the owner was away. Missing are a Macintosh computer, Apple IIc computer monitor and a portable televison set, worth a combined $1,660.

Entry was gained by slipping the lock of a rear door. The initial investigation by Ptl. Curtis Vanchoff is being continued by the members of the Borough detective bureau.

Brooks Bend in the Township has been visited by thieves.

This time the doors of a construction trailer owned by Fruscione's Construction Co. in Trenton were pried open.

Stolen were an engineer's transit valued at $1,000, a $200 power saw and a $120 drill.

Sailboat, Tree Stolen. A $1,000 sailboat and an eight-foot hemlock tree valued at $300 are among items reported stolen last week by Township police.

The red-hulled, white-decked sailboat with a blue tarpaulin was stolen this month from the Princeton-Kingston Road sailboat dock on Carnegie Lake where it had been secured to a dock post. Police report the boat, which bore the name Sonitu, is owned by a resident of Sturges Way.

The hemlock was broken off at its roots and carried away from the front yard of a Springdale Road home.

The victim told police she had heard a noise around 2:30 in the morning, looked out a window and saw three white males carrying a tree down the street. She was not aware it had been taken from her own lawn until she discovered it missing in the morning.

"It's the first one so far this season," noted Capt. Jack Petrone. Such tree thefts this time of year are not uncommon.

A teacher at Stuart School left her purse with some books on a cafeteria table recently one morning. When she realized later what she had done, she returned to discover her purse, containing $400, was missing.

Someone entered the unlocked '78 Olds of a Skillman resident last week while it was parked on Greenbrier Row. Taken was a purse, a wallet, a pair of eyeglasses and other items, but no cash. The victim placed a value of $154 on the loss.

A Brown University student, visiting at a home on Princeton-Kingston Road last week, left her car unlocked in the driveway. During the night, someone entered her car and took an envelope containing $100 that had been left on the dashboard.

In another car theft, the window of a Mercedes was broken last week while parked for two hours in the lot of the Commodities Corporation on Mount Lucas Road. Taken from the interior were a leather jacket valued at $189 and a $295 radar detector. The victim, a resident of Griggstown, told police the replacement cost of the window is $160.

In the only bicycle theft in the Township, a man's $300 ten-speed, left unlocked next to a garage of a Guyot Avenue resident, was stolen. In the lone bike theft reported in the Borough, a ten-speed Schwinn, valued at $150, was stolen from the north side of Witherspoon Hall on the university campus. Police report the student owner had secured the bicycle with a cable lock.

Cash Missing from Cabinet. Stolen between 1 and 10 Saturday morning from an unlocked filing cabinet in a Witherspoon Street food store was $194. The theft was discovered by an employee.

A 1973 Jaguar, parked Sunday on Quarry Street in front of the home of its owner, had its battery stolen between 1 and 7:50 p.m. The battery is valued at $60. Police said the thief apparently reached inside the unlocked car to free the hood release.

There were four thefts on the university campus, two from a popular location – Dillon Gym.

A Washington Crossing, Pa., resident left his gym bag in the stands while playing basketball Thursday between 5 and 6:30 p.m. During that time a thief reached in and removed his $50 wallet containing $160.

Saturday afternoon, a Princeton University student left his wallet in the stands wrapped in a sweatshirt while playing ball. He lost $20.

Another student listed the theft of her wallet from her coat, which she had left for an hour in the coat room of the Cap and Gown Club on Prospect Avenue. The wallet, police said, contained personal papers and identification but no cash.

Between 10:30 and midnight Friday, a student left his knapsack unattended in the living room of Dial Lodge on campus. He lost a Walkman radio, cassette tapes, textbooks, calculator and clothing, worth a combined $751, when the knapsack was stolen.

The knapsack of another student, left unattended in an unlocked room in the Engineering Quadrangle, yielded to the thief who stole it Monday a camera, razor and clothing worth $210.

Taken from the 1983 Datsun of a Lawrence Township resident, parked last week on Nassau Street near Tulane, were a 35mm camera, cassette recorder and clothing. Total loss: $855.

Police report one of the car doors had been forced open between 10 and 11:30 in the evening.

Nine Students Routed By Chimney Fire Here

Smoke and flames from a Sunday morning chimney fire forced the temporary evacuation of nine university students from their dormitory home on 35 University Place.

According to Fire Chief Peter Hodge, flames from a chimney fire were able to penetrate dried mortar, setting some interior insulation and a wooden wall exterior on fire. Residents had doused a fire in the fireplace with water about 1 in the morning, according to Ann Reynolds, one of the senior students living in the home.

Around 4:25 in the morning, Miss Reynolds woke the other residents after she smelled smoke, heard crackling noises and saw flames outside the house. She called university security. Firemen were summoned to the site and Chief Hodge reported the fire was under control about 5 a.m. After extinguishing the blaze, firemen ripped paneling from the outside wall to insure the fire was not smoldering underneath.

University proctor Harry Kahny later described the damage as minimal. The nine students were allowed to move back in later in the day.

Two Car Fires. In one of two car fires reported last week, a Lawrenceville resident was driving on North Harrison Street shortly before 9 in the morning when he noticed smoke and flames coming from the engine compartment of his 1984 Ford Escort. The fire was extinguished by Ptl. David Leiggi with a patrol car extinguisher but not before extensive damage to the engine and hood, police report.

The Fire Chief later reported that it appears that the car's battery was not properly connected. There was no estimate of the damage.

Last Wednesday afternoon, when a university student started the engine of his 1974 Duster parked in the lot of the New South Building on campus, he noticed smoke coming from heater vents under the dashboard.

He went for help and police report employees from New South got some water and put out the fire. Four firemen also arrived and hosed down the car, which sustained damage to the dash and undercarriage.

Four Windows Smashed; Three Exams Are Taken

Four five-by-five foot windows of the Biology Building off Washington Road on the university campus were smashed between 3:30 and 4:52 the morning of November 26, causing $1,600 in damage.

The interior was checked by proctors who discovered three biology exams were missing. Nothing else was taken.

A four-by-ten foot plate glass window at Claridge Wine and Liquor in the Princeton Shopping Center was broken last week, either accidentally or on purpose, say Township police.

Tire tracks went up to the window but there was no entry, say police, who have not received an estimate of the damage.

The rear window of a 1979 Buick station wagon was broken the day before Thanksgiving while it was parked in Princeton Shopping Center.

Police report the window was shattered by an "unkown force" while three small children were inside the car. Replacement cost: $300.

A Lambertville resident told police that the driver's side of his 1986 BMW had been "considerably scratched" by a sharp instrument while it was parked in the Princeton Shopping Center, and an outer window of a Birch Avenue home was broken last week when someone threw eggs at the house. Police report an egg was recovered between the window and an interior window which was not damaged.

Borough police report two cars vandalized while parked Friday in a lot at the rear of 112 Nassau Street. The fender of a 1985 Chevrolet of a Levittown, Pa. resident was scratched with a sharp object and a line from an auxiliary transmission cooler of a 1984 Plymouth, owned by a Lawrence Township resident, was cut, causing the transmission fluid to leak out.

During the weekend, the rear window of an Audi, owned by a university student, was broken while the car was parked near Palmer Lab off Washington Road. Police report the car was not entered.

"The process of founding a school is both humbling and invigorating," Ms. Fremon said. "Starting from scratch forces all of us on the board of trustees to ask basic questions about what education can be. At Princeton Friends School we hope to see children and adults become learning companions in an atmosphere of cooperation that has always been associated with Quakers and their schools."

Princeton Friends School hopes to attract a diverse student body, drawing children from various racial, socio-economic, and religious backgrounds. Parents of children in the elementary grades interested in further information on the school should call either Dick Weeder at 921-2772 or Jane Fremon at 924-2038, or write Princeton Friends School, c/o Jane Fremon, 648 The Great Road, Princeton, 08540.

Christmas Fund Growing

Contributions to the TOWN TOPICS Christmas Fund are mounting rapidly. Two weeks before Christmas the fund total stands at $6,619.70.

Monies are channeled through the Family Service Agency to meet the needs of those, for instance, for whom Christmas is just another day — one to be somehow "gotten through." Christmas is a time of hope, and by providing vocational counseling and training, by enabling children to have the fun of summer day camp, by restoring electricity and heat when a lack of money has forced a shutdown, the Fund gives hope.

Any amount, large or small is welcome. Checks may be made payable to the TOWN TOPICS Christmas Fund and sent to this newspaper at P.O. Box 664, Princeton, N.J. 08542.

PCH Concerns. Mr. Davies provided a fairly detailed map of the Bunn Drive connection as an attachment to Princeton's joint highway policy. He said he hoped the DOT would be "open" to working out refinements of the proposal.

One concern about the proposal raised by PCH board members and Princeton Community Village residents concerns the impact of extended Bunn Drive would have on that housing development. Of particular concern is safe access for children and the elderly to the Hilltop Park playground

HOW TO BUY ANYTHING YOU WANT AND WRITE OFF THE INTEREST.

EquiPower.℠ The only credit you'll ever need. Only at New Jersey National Bank.

An act of Congress and a presidential signature have made home equity loans the only form of tax-deductible consumer credit for the future.

In response, New Jersey National Bank has designed EquiPower. It'll give you more than any other home equity loan. More deductions. More convenience. More for your money. More than anyone else.

EquiPower interest is fully deductible.*

Including the interest on EquiPower's Gold MasterCard. The new tax laws rule out deductions for any other kind of credit card and for most consumer loans. But EquiPower is so flexible, you can use it for practically any purpose — and deduct all of the interest. We're the only bank in the state with a tax-deductible credit card.

$20,000 to $250,000 — and more — to use any way you want.

Imagine the possibilities of a credit line that can exceed $100,000. EquiPower can open them up to you. Use EquiPower to pay for a microwave or a Mercedes, new whitewalls or a house-full of thermal windows, a pedigreed collie or college tuition. No reason is too great — or too small — for an EquiPower home equity loan.

All that credit and a really great rate!

EquiPower's interest rate is a highly competitive Prime† plus 2%. Compare that to the interest you're currently paying on your credit cards — or on any other loan, for that matter. And we're also going to give you a great introductory rate: if you apply for an EquiPower home equity loan today, we'll make your first 90 days' interest rate the Prime Rate, currently 7.5% APR.

Your EquiPower gold card gives you money back.

On every purchase you make with your EquiPower Gold MasterCard, New Jersey National Bank will rebate 1% of the purchase price. No other bank in the state can say that. So whether you buy a vase, a van or a Van Gogh — you'll get 1% back from the Red Circle bank. Your gold card is accepted at millions of retail locations. Or for instant cash at MAC® and Plus System® automatic tellers and at thousands of banking locations nationwide.

You can write yourself a loan with EquiPower Checks, too.

EquiPower Checks are like any other checks, but they're drawn on your EquiPower credit line. You can use EquiPower Checks wherever you'd use regular checks. And any way you access your EquiPower loan — by check or credit card—every payment you make replenishes your credit line.

Stop by your neighborhood branch. Or call 1-800-542-LOAN.

All it takes is a few moments to get the EquiPower ball rolling. And just 5 days for a qualified approval. Shop around. You won't find another home equity loan like EquiPower: a tax-deductible loan with credit card and check access, a buyer's rebate, higher credit line and lower interest rate. It's probably the last loan — and the only credit — you'll ever need.

NEW JERSEY NATIONAL BANK

EQUIPOWER. THE ONLY CREDIT YOU'LL EVER NEED.

*Consult with your tax advisor about your particular situation.
†Discount to the Prime Rate is guaranteed for the first three(3) billing cycles (currently 7.5% APR). Subsequently, rate will become the Prime Rate plus 2% (currently 9.5% APR). Rate may vary with Prime. Annual fee of $50 will be waived for the first year. Offer good on applications received by January 30, 1987.

WREATH SALE BENEFITS FUND: Alan Royce of the men's clothing store of the same name purchases a Christmas wreath from YWCA volunteer Barbara Bromley. Wreaths will be sold Saturday from 11 to 2 in Palmer Square, and the proceeds will benefit the Pearl Bates Scholarship Fund.

diagonally across the road. This park/playground is in the process of being developed by and for PCV residents.

Having had their say, Princeton Township and Borough officials departed, leaving the floor for Princeton citizens to speak their piece, and for Montgomery officials and citizens to articulate their position, which is in fundamental disagreement with Princeton's.

A 'Dumping Ground.' The verbal denunciation of the DOT and the DEIS began with Montgomery Mayor Donald Matthews, who protested that Montgomery was being used as a "dumping ground" for traffic from the N.J. Turnpike on one side and I-287 on the other, as well as from other municipalities. "Our state DOT has found a way to build a freeway within our boundaries," Mayor Matthews complained.

Montgomery Township Committeeman Daniel Huttar told the DOT area coordinator John Mycoff, who presided at the hearing, that Montgomery "categorically rejects S-92 in all configurations." Mr. Huttar asserted that S-92 was part of an inter-regional highway sys-

Wreath Sale Will Benefit YWCA Scholarship Fund

The Pearl Bates Scholarship Fund is the beneficiary of the proceeds of a holiday wreath sale on Saturday from 11 to 2 to be held in Palmer Square.

YWCA volunteers Penny Thomas and Barbara Bromley will sell wreaths decorated in various ways. Traditional evergreen wreaths will be decorated with pine cones and ribbons. There will also be grapevine half-baskets filled with greens and bowed in holiday colors.

The Pearl Bates Scholarship Fund serves more than 250 men, women and children whose economic condition would otherwise prohibit them from taking part in YWCA courses. Last year, more than $14,500 was awarded.

tem and had been "illegally segmented" from consideration of the other components, namely the Somerset Expressway and dualized Route 206.

Taking up the theme, Kenneth Barnhart, member of Montgomery Traffic Committee and president of Citizens for Appropriate Roadway Systems (CARS) asserted: "NJDOT continues to evade the fact that it wishes to build a major interstate freeway which will link the New York Thruway via I-287 to the New Jersey Turnpike. The Federal Highway Administration should compel NJDOT to disclose its entire plan and prepare the appropriate DEIS."

Montgomery officials repeatedly referred to the 4,600 acres zoned for commercial development by Hillsborough and Franklin Townships, and their concern that the the 60 million square feet of office space this would produce would send enormous volumes of traffic along the highway system proposed by the DOT right through Montgomery.

CARS or 'No-Build.' They asked that a northeastern freeway alignment, which was proposed by CARS as a more direct route for this inter-regional traffic, be given serious examination. The CARS route has been twice rejected in DOT studies, for reasons which Montgomery finds unsupported and therefore unacceptable.

Because this alternative has been rejected, and because it disagrees fundamentally with S-92 as proposed, Montgomery supports a "no-build" alternative — unlike Princeton. Montgomery has already challenged the DOT in court on right-of-way acquisition for S-

Peddie Tourney Next For Hun School Five

More seasoning in preparation for the regular season is in store for the Hun School basketball team, which has split its first two games.

This weekend, Hun will participate in the annual, eight-team Peddie Tournament in Hightstown. Opening round games will be played Friday, the semifinals on Saturday and the championship game on Sunday. Last year, Hun bowed to Valley Forge in the championship game. A few years ago, Hun won the event two years in a row.

"It's always a great tournament; all the teams are very strong," observed Hun coach Pat Kahny. "If you win, you know you have a good team."

Some of the other schools participating include Solebury, which is competing for the first time and is a team Kahny views as very strong and possibly the team to beat, Pennington School, Valley Forge and Collegiate of New York.

Victories over two fairly weak teams in pre-season scrimmages, coupled with an easy 78-54 victory over Newark Academy in its opener last week, had given Hun a false opinion of its ability, reported Kahny. "They felt all they had to do to win was bring the ball down the court."

That false sense was dispelled Friday when Rutgers Prep outscored Hun, 44-32, in the second half and went on to win, 72-60. "Our biggest problem," recalled Kahny, "is we didn't handle the press very well and we had a lot of turnovers." His advice to his team the next day in practice: "Forget it. We played a good team and we got beat by a good team."

Afterwards, Kahny confessed that he felt the loss was actually a blessing in disguise. "We found out a lot of things." Hun, he said, is a very young team and a few adjustments will have to be made. He brushed off the first loss by saying it's early in the season.

"I think we'll develop as a team," predicted Kahny. "The main thing now is to get them through the tournament and then come back in January ready for the regular season."

Worthy Has 22. Steve Worthy, the sophomore transfer student from Trenton, led all Hun scorers against Rutgers Prep with 22 points and he was also high man with 23 in the win over Newark Academy. "He's one of the best players around," said Kahny of the burly, 6-3, 195-pound Worthy.

"He's so big and so strong. I can't see anybody stopping him. He scores almost when he wants to."

Big as he is, Worthy also has a nice shooting touch outside, Kahny added. Unlike Keith Green, the 1,000-point Hun standout who graduated last year and who got most of his points underneath the basket, Worthy, he said, "can go inside or outside."

What's more, in Kahny's view, Worthy does not have to score for Hun to win all the time. Kahny's got that much depth.

"We've got to learn to win as a team and not rely on individuals taking charge," said Kahny. Worthy and teammate Chris Teel (14 points), he said, tried to take charge in the loss to Rutgers. "They tried to do too much."

92 through its proposed affordable housing zone, and Montgomery officials make it very clear that the Township is prepared to broaden the attack in the courts.

Michael Gerrard, a New York attorney who participated in the successful opposition to the Westway, paved the way for this on Monday night when he said the DOT was "proceding in an illegal fashion" on several counts.

Residents of the Montgomery Woods townhouse development also threatened to bring legal action to prevent the highway from cutting into that development and displacing several hundred families. "There will be 700 of us by 1988," warned a spokesman for the Save Our Homes organization in the development. "Watch out for us. We will fight you in the courts, we will fight you in the streets and on the site with baby carriages and bodies. Go onto something worthwhile."

OBITUARIES

Dorothy B. Green, 83, a 20-year resident of Princeton, died November 26 at her home in Edgartown, Mass., after a long illness.

Born in New Britain, Conn., Mrs. Green was educated at the Dana Hall School and Katherine Gibbs Secretarial School. She worked for several years in New York prior to her marriage to Goulding K. Wight, who died in 1958.

In 1960, she married Robert M. Green, a 1913 Princeton classmate and close friend of her late husband. Mr. Green was a senior executive of the Prudential Insurance Company and former trustee of Princeton University. The Greens lived in Princeton before becoming residents of Sarasota, Fla. and Edgartown, Mass. Mr. Green died in 1981.

RELIGION

Those looking for Christmas spirit may find it in the many musical offerings of Advent and Christmas music scheduled by churches and choirs this weekend. What follows is a short description of these services in churches in the Princeton area. Except where noted, all are open to the public at no admission charge.

The Princeton University Chapel will hold its annual Candlelight Service of Lessons and Carols Thursday at 8.

The Princeton University Chapel Choir, conducted by Prof. Walter Nollner, will present its annual Christmas Vespers in the university Chapel on Sunday afternoon at 2:15. The Chapel Choir will be joined by some members of the Princeton University Glee Club to sing the Christmas portion (Part I plus the "Hallelujah" chorus of Handel's Messiah. The orchestra or oboes, bassoon, trumpets, timpani, strings and organ, will be made up mostly of members of the Princeton University Orchestra, plus several members of the Princeton community.

David Weadon, university organist and assistant conductor for both the Chapel Choir and the Glee Club, as well as director of music and organist at Princeton Theological Seminary, will play the organ for the Handel, as well as organ works by J.S. Bach, Dupre, Taylor and Zachow. The soloists are all members of either the Chapel Choir or the Glee Club.

Trinity Church, 33 Mercer Street, will present its annual Christmas Concert on Sunday at 7:30. Carols will be sung by Trinity's three choirs, directed by John Bertalot and Robert Palmer, and the audience will be invited to sing more carols led by orchestra, choirs and two organs.

The Princeton Theological Seminary Chamber Singers will present their annual candlelight Service of Lessons and Carols on Monday at 6:30 and again at 8:30 in Miller Chapel on the Seminary campus.

The service is based on the traditional Christmas Eve service of lessons and carols adapted from Kings College, Cambridge, England. It will include traditional English, Dutch, French and German carols. The Chamber Singers are directed by David Weadon.

Because of high attendance in past years, two identical services have been scheduled this year. Each will be followed by carol singing on the campus quadrangle outside the chapel.

Nassau Presbyterian Church will have an evening of Christmas caroling in the community Sunday evening starting at 8:30. The church will provide song sheets and direct singers to various parts of town. Afterwards there will be hot chocolate and cookies at the home of the Rev. Cynthia Jarvis. Participants should wear warm clothes and bring a flashlight and a plate of cookies to share.

The Bell Choir from Nassau Church will perform a medley of holiday songs Sunday at 3 at the South Brunswick Public Library.

The Keystone Brass will present an evening of Christmas brass music from all periods in classical and sacred repertoire Wednesday, December 17, at 8 in the auditorium of Princeton High School. The group is sponsored by Princeton Alliance Church.

Bulletin Notes

The Missionary Society of First Baptist Church will hold its annual Christmas Bazaar on Saturday from 9 to 4 at the church on John Street and Paul Robeson Place. Fried chicken sandwiches will also be sold.

The Bunker Hill Lutheran Church will present its annual Sunday School Pageant on Sunday at 4. Directed by Karen DeKok and entitled "The Christmases of Your Life," the pageant follows the life of a man from age eight through the teens, 20's, 40's and 60's. The program involves the entire Sunday school and the church choir and includes many special numbers.

The finale will include a singing Christmas tree, with about 20 children in the tree. The first half of the program will include a special presentation of songs and pieces by the nursery and primary department, under the direction of Mrs. Elsa Stromsland.

All are invited. For additional information call the church at 359-6302. The church is located on Bunker Hill Road in Griggstown.

WEST WINDSOR

This sturdy Cape Cod has a unique location — walking distance to the train station, a Princeton mailing address and a probable zoning change to research and office use. Presently, there are five rooms and full bath on the first floor and two more rooms and bath on second floor, most of generous size and all in good condition. Attached garage, full basement. All in a beautifully landscaped lot of almost one acre. $285,000

LIGHT HORSE HILL FARM - HOPEWELL

For well over 200 years, this lovely farm has nestled peacefully in the gentle hills of Hopewell. Disturbed briefly during the chaos of the Revolution by a visit from "Light Horse" Harry Lee, it earned a place in the history of the area. Fenced meadows, timbered barns and spring house shelter the pool, terraces, gardens and house. A sensitive addition blends with the original residence and the integrity of the architectural details have been completely preserved. Two living rooms, distinguished by carved mantels, dining with walk-in fireplace, study, five bedrooms with two additional fireplaces, kitchen, and 2 full plus 2 half baths complete the interior. All on 9.2 acres. $750,000

RIVERSIDE AREA

Located on a quiet cul-de-sac one-half mile from Riverside School and within walking distance of the New York bus, this comfortable house is in one of Princeton's most desirable neighborhoods. The floor plan includes an entry hall, living room with a wall of bookshelves, dining room with a chair rail, and an eat-in kitchen with a beamed ceiling. Three bedrooms and two baths complete the main floor. On the lower level: a family room with wall-to-wall carpeting, a raised hearth fireplace, and sliding doors to a patio with a gas grill, plus, a fourth bedroom or study, a furnace and laundry room combination, a lavatory off the family room, and a two-car garage. Sloping gently to the rear, the lot is deep and private and includes mature shrubbery, foundation planting, and many lovely old trees. A good value at $298,000

WOODS HILL

This sparkling Cape Cod is the centerpiece of a 4 acre private world — rolling lawns, a running brook, fruit trees, shade trees, evergreens, magnificent rhododendrons, brick walks and terraces. The house features a living room 14x25 with fireplace, separate dining room, kitchen with natural pine cabinets, combination lavatory and laundry, and a marvelous glass walled all purpose room with southern exposure and sliding doors to the terrace. On second floor, three bedrooms and full bath. Two car garage with skylighted studio above could be converted to an apartment. All located within a few minutes of Hopewell, Pennington and Rt. 295. Immediate occupancy. Actively offered at $279,000

SPECIAL CAT SEEKS NEW HOME: My name is K.C. (that stands for "Kitty Cat"). I am a 2 year old, marmalade, spayed female, very healthy, affectionate and people-oriented (I love laps), accustomed to both indoor and outdoor living. Unfortunately, a member of the family I adopted last year has an asthmatic condition that can't live with my soft, cuddly fur anymore, so they are asking me to adopt a new family. I know that most humans want baby cats, not adolescents (you see, the government doesn't protect cats from age discrimination), but if you'll just feed me and love me, I promise to be faithful to you forever. My family can tell you about me; just call (609) 882-8222 and ask about K.C.

LARGE FRUITWOOD breakfront Traditional. Excellent condition. Must sell. Moving. $300. Call Beth 609-599-9587 days; 215-493-6844.

'Tis the Season for Shopping and Selecting As Princeton Stores Overflow with Delights

It's in the air! The music, the fragrances, the anticipation — all the tangibles and intangibles that make up that special time just before Christmas.

Shoppers sense a bit more urgency now — maybe less browsing and more buying — as they seek that elusive gift. There is still time, of course, and the Princeton shops have a tremendous variety of gifts in all categories. Whether it's jewelry, lingerie, crafts, antiques or toys, you'll find it in the Princeton area stores selection.

A WIDE RANGE OF GIFTS as well as fine furniture and home furnishings are featured at Nassau Interiors. Laurie LaPlaca emphasizes that good taste, quality and custom service have always been priorities at this long-established store.

IT'S NEW To Us

Christmas shopping would surely not be complete without a stop at H.P. Clayton on Palmer Square. This special store has been serving Princeton customers since 1915, and it is filled with an array of holiday gift possibilities. Clothing, fabric, ribbons (an unparalleled selection), toys, stuffed animals, Christmas cards, and accessories of all sorts are available.

Decorative doormats, which can be personalized, make a welcome gift, and Clayton's has a variety of patterns for $24.

If you are planning on giving wine this Christmas, Clayton's has a cloth wine bag to put it in. At $3.50, it comes in attractive designs and is a useful as well as festive gift.

Small boudoir pillows and pillow covers are another pleasing present. There are many pretty embroidered or ruffled covers, which are drip dry. The pillows are poly-filled ($8) or down-filled ($36). Combined with lingerie, this can be a most appealing gift.

Clayton's has lots of things for children, including the famous Steiff bears. A very large selection is displayed in a "circus wagon," and they come in all shapes and sizes. Many have become collectibles. A variety of other stuffed animals, including a king-sized "Bruiser Bear," is also available.

Stocking Surprises. Stocking stuffers are a big item at Clayton's, and there is an assortment of many entertaining items for kids and grownups. A stick with an alligator head that opens and closes its mouth, "Face Paints" or little makeup sticks that are safe and wash off, scissors in the shape of lions, tigers, elephants and owls, a variety of monster wind-up toys, a mirror in the shape of a hand, and erasers in the shape of crayons are some of the amusing articles available for youngsters.

Their parents will enjoy adult puzzles, a mustache comb "for well-groomed moustaches and eyebrows," squeeze lights that glow in the dark (a small light that can be carried in purse or pocket and last a year) and notes and memo pads. And while Mom is doing the dishes, she can wear rubber gloves with red fingernails as Dad wears "newspaper" gloves to keep his hands clean when he reads the paper — or vice versa!

Women often look to Clayton's for its fine selection of Geiger wool jackets and skirts. The famous classic boiled jacket is available in most colors for $158, and there are a number of variations, with

As Founding Member of Mime Resources International This Actress from Princeton Is Never Out of Work

The colorfully costumed Victorian characters who perform in Palmer Square from noon to 3 these pre-Christmas Saturdays call themselves Captain Dickens and his strolling New World Players.

A group of six, four men and two women, in bonnet and bustle, top hat and velvet waistcoat, they pause now and again to give their own merrily scrambled version of A Christmas Carol, or recite in rhyming couplets the Ogden Nash tale of the boy, J.B. Dawes, who refused to believe in Santa Claus. Between performances they sing carols and talk and joke with passersby — each keeping to the particular persona he or she has taken on as one of the New World Players.

Part entertainment, part promotion, play-within-a-play and street theatre all rolled into one, Captain Dickens and his New World Players is an original concept created by Mime Resources International. This is a multi-purpose performing group based in New York that specializes in providing a variety of entertainment with which businesses and corporations can introduce or highlight their products and services.

The group can supply magicians, musicians, dancers, jugglers, mime artists, clown acts and scenes from history. Mime Resources itself is the creation of three multiply-talented individuals, of whom Princeton High School graduate Liz Bolick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Bolick of Herrontown Road, is one.

Classic Story. In describing her ascent from stage-struck childhood in Princeton to engagments at the White House, Carnegie Hall and the Kennedy Center, Ms. Bolick tells a tale that begins conventionally but broadens out to include far more than simply becoming an actress. As a third-grader in Hollywood,

LIZ BOLI

Liz Bolick

Fla., where the Bolick family lived at the time, her first role was as the fairy godmother in a comic version of Cinderella. The role required making an egg appear, her first magic trick and a hint of things to come.

Encouraged by her family, Liz took Saturday theater classes and studied jazz dance. With friends, she acted out Beatle songs and fairy tales for the neighbors in the backyard. By the time she moved to Princeton at age 11, she was ready to take Mrs. Henning's drama classes at the Valley Road School and become an early and consistent member of both Creative Theatre Unlimited and Princeton Street Theater.

Later she acted in Princeton Community Players' productions of The Gingerbread Girl and The Killing of Sister George. At Princeton High School she studied Shakespeare with Georgine Hall Friedman, whom she remembers as "a great inspiration," and who helped her work up monologues and auditions for college. They appeared together in Man in the Moon Marigolds at the High School.

Liz also worked backstage at Theatre Intime and McCarter. Graduating from PHS a year ahead of her age group in 1975, she remained at home in 1975-76 to do a little of everything backstage at McCarter. That summer she was hired as wardrobe mistress and understudy in a national tour of Charlie's Aunt, with Vincent Price and Reddy McDowell. From the tour she earned her Equity card when she was 17.

Survival Skills. In the fall she entered the North Carolina School of the Arts in Winston-Salem, a conservatory that taught costume design, scene construction, singing, dancing and playwriting as well as acting technique. Cautioning its students that the theatre world is a hard one to break into, the school also taught "survival skills" — the circus arts of clowning, juggling and sword swallowing. She also learned mime from James Donlon.

Graduating in 1980, Ms. Bolick came to New York and spent a year waiting on tables before she decided that she would never "make it" unless she devoted her whole life to performance. The next three months were "pure terror," she recounts, until she got her first job as a juggler promoting Chipwich ice cream sandwiches.

She became "Miss Chipwich" and devised original material involving both juggling and mime. From that came a job as national special events coordinator for the company. She learned the business end of theater and entertainment and realized she could write her own material and promote it herself. "I realized you don't have to be starving, that I could take care of myself. I have worked steadily ever since."

In 1981, while helping produce an event at Carnegie Hall for a group called Artists to End Hunger, she met Everett Hoag, who was doing a mime show as part of the event. She auditioned for him, and together they put on an original masque piece on hunger that received a standing ovation at Carnegie Hall. The two then teamed up to create the fine arts company that became Mime Resources International. Jocko McKean, who grew up in Rumson, joined as the third partner a year or so later.

Invited to White House. Mime Resources has been invited three years in a row to be the entertainment at the annual egg rolling on the White House lawn. Adding other performers as needed, the group offers some 20 different kinds of entertainment, ranging from animal characters and stilt walkers, to face painting and palm reading. They open shopping malls and department stores, stage black-tie, sit-down dinner fund raisers, appear in industrial films, provide entertainment for children at employee picnics and create the desired ambiance at trade shows and demonstrations.

CAPTAIN DICKENS AND HIS STROLLING PLAYERS: Performing Saturdays between noon and three in Palmer Square are, from left, David Steery, Jocko McKean, Kathleen Devine, Elizabeth Bolick, Everett Hoag and Michael Kobetitsch. With Captain Dickens (Mr. Hoag) purporting to be a cousin of Charles, the group makes itself out as a group of English actors newly arrived for an American tour. Ms. Bolick's character is Juliana Scott-Stewart, the leading lady about whom there are scandalous rumors. (Cliff Moore photo)

Recently, Mime Resources was selected as one of the Young Audiences of New Jersey performing groups to tour schools all over the state with a 45-minute show called "The Incredible Illusion Show." The three principals, all highly skilled mime artists, use illusion, magic and juggling to demonstrate and teach nonverbal communication.

Ms. Bolick describes herself and her fellow performers as actors with a lot of different skills. She seems to enjoy the variety and challenge posed in taking an idea — either of their own imagining or posed by a corporation — and creating, researching, writing, staging, costuming and performing whatever best fulfills the idea.

"I wasn't willing to sit around for the right part to open up," she remarks. "This way we get an idea, write it, star in it, produce it and market it and we're never without work." The three perform individually as well as with Mime Resources, and Ms. Bolick herself is currently appearing in a segment of the Public Television children's program, "Reading Rainbow." She also has done television commercials and voice-overs.

The Dickens' strolling players concept is one which the group calls "environmental theater," because, not only is an ambiance created through the costumes and the acted-out playlets and poems, but the performers interact with the environment around them. It was first done at the South Street Seaport Market three years ago, where it "fits" with the surrounding stores in the same way it fits with Palmer Square's Colonial Revival architecture.

Open air performance is not a new idea, nor are performers who are versatile in a whole range of skills. But the idea of being involved in the whole gamut of production and tailoring it to corporate and promotional purposes is a new twist. Worth a special trip to Palmer Square on Saturday between noon and three.

Teacher of Deaf Is Cast In Play About Deafness

Jack Friedel, a speech pathologist at the Marie Katzenbach School for the deaf in Trenton, will play James Leeds, a speech teacher at a state school for the deaf in Children of a Lesser God at the Off-Broadstreet Theatre in Hopewell.

Appearing opposite him as the headstrong student, Sarah Norman, whom he marries, is Loreen A. Petersack, a 1985 graduate of the Marie Katzenbach School. Although they overlapped at the school, she was never his pupil.

Children of a Lesser God opens Friday at 8 and plays weekends through January 17. Mr. Friedel is a native of Trenton who lives in Pennsylvania. He earned a B.S. in speech pathology and audiology and studied jazz, tap, ballet and voice.

He appeared as Reg in the Off-Broadstreet production of Round and Round the Garden and as Captain Robert Audley in Lady Audley's Secret. He has also had leading roles at the Bucks County Playhouse, including Max in The Sound of Music and the Padre in Man of La Mancha. He also performed in PJ&B's production of The Mikado.

Miss Petersack, diagnosed with "nerve deafness" at age two, attended the Marie Katzenbach School for 16 years, graduating in 1985. She appeared in school productions of Peter Pan and Rumpelstiltskin, and in the annual Christmas production. She also attended the National Technical Institute for the Deaf in Rochester, N.Y., and is currently employed in the order processing department at Lenox Collections, Langhorne, Pa.

Although Miss Petersack is a skilled lip reader, and also able to speak, Julie and Bob Thick, producers at the Off-Broadstreet Theatre, have learned some sign language in order to acquaint themselves with the problems faced by the hearing impaired.

Friday and Saturday performances are at 8, with dessert at 7. On Sunday dessert is at 1:30, with curtain at 2:30. Admission is $12.50 and includes dessert and show. For tickets call the Off-Broadstreet Theatre at 466-2766.

Two Extra Performances Of "A Christmas Carol"

McCarter Theatre has added two extra performances of Charles Dickens' A Christmas Carol on Saturday, December 27, at 2 and 7:30, to accommodate the demand for tickets.

The five-year tradition of presenting A Christmas Carol was interrupted last season while the theater underwent a $4.5-million renovation. "I am pleased and gratified that the public has returned to McCarter in such great numbers to share this very special holiday production with us. We missed presenting A Christmas Carol last season, and it's clear that the public missed it too, because the demand for tickets is at an all-time high," said Managing Director, Alison Harris.

The theater reports that although some good seats still remain for the December 13 through 24 performances of A Christmas Carol, sales are brisk and the public is urged to make reservations early. Tickets are $16, $18 and $23 and can be purchased at the McCarter box office from noon to 6 daily.

Chess Players Sought For New Year's Event

Princeton Group Theatre Productions is looking for chess players for its New Year's Eve celebration Curtain Calls.

Chess playing ability "is not a major factor," according to Betty Fenton, the producer, but availability for the single-night performance and some rehearsal time is required. The production also needs a violinist.

For information call Ms. Fenton at 924-9559.

"Peter Pan" Readied By Pennington School

Seventh- and eighth-grade students from The Pennington School, Pennington, will put on a production of Peter Pan on Thursday and Friday at 7:30 p.m. in Stainton Hall. The public, especially young children, is invited. Tickets are $3 for adults, $1.50 for students and $.50 for small children.

Registration Under Way For Creative Theater

Creative Theatre Unlimited's winter program of classes for children will begin on January 5, and will run through March 13.

Classes offered this term include discovery workshops for four-year-olds and kindergarteners, which involve the children in drama, movement, art and music, and idea workshops for grades 2-3 and 4-5, which encourage the creative development of original plays as students construct the sets and props themselves.

A video workshop is available for grades 4-6. Acting for grades 6-8 introduces performance technique through improvisation and beginning scene work. An advanced acting lab for grades 9-12 is also offered this term, and is an in-depth analysis of character and script.

Several classes are already closed for the winter term, and early registration is encouraged. Registration ends December 30. A limited number of scholarships are available through the generosity of contributors to CTU and the Princeton Youth Fund.

Call 924-3489 for more information or to enroll.

'Peter and the Wolf' Due At George St. Playhouse

The George Street Playhouse in New Brunswick will present Peter and the Wolf as its holiday production for children and families.

The production blends pantomime with the Prokofiev musical score in recounting the misadventures of Peter, who wanders from his grandfather's house into the woods. There he is befriended by a bird, a duck and a cat and ultimately confronts a greedy, ferocious wolf. Each character is represented by a different musical instrument.

The production is directed by George Street Playhouse Associate Artistic Director Maureen Heffernan, who was responsible for GSP productions of Snoopy, Cinderella and The Triol of Honsel ond Gretel. Bill Bowers will narrate. Also in the cast are Martha Gilpin, Susan Speidel, Dale Spencer and Pamela Shepard.

Tickets are $6, or $5 for groups of 10 or more. For information call the box office at (201) 846-7717. The group sales hotline number is (201) 846-2832. Major credit cards are accepted.

Feydeau Farce Is Next At George St. Playhouse

George Street Playhouse in New Brunswick will present Georges Feydeau's Every Trick in the Book in a new translation as the second of four premieres it is producing this year.

This farcical look at love and marriage opens Friday and runs until January 4. Thursday is a preview. The play was chosen from the Plays in Process series and was originally performed during readings in the fall of 1984.

The name Feydeau is synonymous with "farce" in much the same way as Moliere's name is. It evokes pictures of poking fun nt the establishment and pointing up the absurdities of the human condition.

Feydeau often uses the marital relationship as the basis of his plot.

Such is the case with Every Trick in the Book, as Mme. and M. Ribadier wrestle with infidelities both real and suspected. Originally presented in 1892 as Le Systeme Ribadier ("The Ribodier System") at the Theatre Du Palais Royal in Paris, the play was one of three Feydeau farces presented that year and launched his career as a major French playwright. It was revived several years later under a title translated as Out of Sight, Out of Mind.

Langdon Brown, the translator, studied at the Sorbonne and has a particular affinity for Feydau. His translation of Le Systeme Ribadier, which he called Every Trick in the Book, was first presented in England in 1981.

The George Street Playhouse production is directed by Peter Bennett, who has directed several plays for the theater. Featured in the cast are Tom Celli as Ribadier, Charlotte Baker as Angele Ribadier, Steve Pudenz as Thommereux, John Rainer as Savinet, Mabel McCormick as Sophie and Doug Tompos as Gusman.

Performances are scheduled Tuesday-Sunday evenings, with matinees on Sundays and alternate Wednesdays and Saturdays. Tickets cost $12-$22 with discounts available for groups of 20 or more. Quick Tiks are available for $8 at the box office on the day of performance, from noon to one half hour before curtain for all performances except Friday and Saturday evenings.

Dinner-theater packages are available at the box office for Tuesday, Wednesday and Sunday matinee and evening performances. For tickets and information call the box office at (201) 246-7717 noon to 9 pm. Tuesday-Sunday and noon-5 Monday.

A large variety of gloves, including fingerless two-in-one gloves, wool and acrylic, is available as is a selection of leather gloves with a cashmere-silk blend lining and also those with an acrylic lining.

Handbags are always needed, and Clayton's has a big selection, including an assortment of Koret and Ann Klein bags, as well as a variety of tapestry-type bags in different designs.

Handkerchiefs are a special gift item at Clayton's, and there are many lovely ones, handembroidered in linen and cotton from China and Switzerland. Men's Irish or Swiss handkerchiefs are also in stock.

A selection of costume jewelry is available, and there are many bracelets, necklaces, earrings and pins from which to choose. Bows to wear in the hair are a very big fashion item this season, and Clayton's has a nice variety.

Soap sets, talcum powder, hand cream, drawer liners and sachet items are also welcome remembrances, and you will find Taylor of London, Woods of Windsor and Norfolk Lavender, all from England. And if you are looking for a calendar towel, always a popular gift at holiday time, Clayton's has its usual complete selection.

A Lingerie Department. Lingerie is an exciting, glamorous gift. Customers will be glad that two holiday traditions, one new and one of long standing, are continuing this season. The 100-year-old Polyphone music box, which has been delighting shoppers for more than 20 years, sounds as good as ever, and the L.G.B. electric train that first chugged its way on suspension bridges all over the store two years ago, is back for the holidays. John Garretson, son of the store's owners, designed the route and built the bridges.

A raffle will be held for a similar L.G.B. train set in the store on Christmas Eve. Just fill out an entry form.

Clayton's offers gift certificates, gift wrapping and mailing services, and will be open Monday to Friday until 8:30, Saturday until 5:30, and Sunday 12 to 5, during the holiday shopping season.

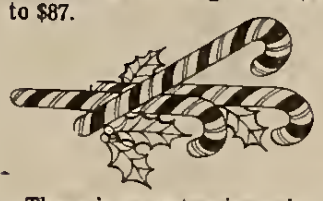
with a zipper. These water-repellent boots range from $95 to $145.

Flats and very low heels continue to be strong, and they are available in a variety of styles, including patent with a touch of sequins, and black and green snakeskin.

A recent addition to Richard's is the Bally line of women's shoes. Both Bally of Switzerland and Bally of Italy offer classic, fine-quality shoes. A spring catalogue will be available, so customers can order shoes which may not presently be in the store.

Slippers are always a big seller for men for the holidays, and Evans' full-leather kidskin are on hand, as are sheepskin-lined slippers for winter. Casual moccasios, blucher moccasins, dirty bucks, white bucks, saddle shoes and loafers are especially in demand among the informal shoes. Such names as Sebago, Nettleton, and Bostonian are popular among moccasins and loafers.

The Rockport line of walking shoes, characterized by comfort and sturdiness, has become very popular as people are beginning to walk instead of run. The shoes range from $60 to $87.



There is an extensive selection of American-made dress shoes, including those by Allen Edmonds, Alden, E.T. Wright, Nettleton and Walkover. Ralph Lauren's Polo footwear is especially fine — a classic style of hand-stitched, leather-lined moccasins.

Imported dress shoes include Bally of Switzerland, which specializes in soft, calfskin-lined shoes and soft glove leather, Baker Benjes from Italy, and Salvatore Ferragamo. Polo evening shoes for men are available, as are plain pumps in black patent.

Boots are good winter gifts for men, and the Frye line features rugged, heavy boots with an oiled finish.

Sheepskin-lined boots include two-eyelet tie ankle boots, as well as slightly higher boots — just above the ankle. These boots can take the severe winter weather.

Cedar shoe trees from $14 to $18, and shoe care kits with brush, polish, etc., for $35, are also available.

Gift certificates are available, and holiday shopping hours are Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday, 9 to 6, Thursday until 8, Saturday, 9 to 5, and, until Christmas, Sunday, 11 to 4.

Artistic Gifts. Shoppers will find an outstanding selection of fine gift items at Kalen's Fine Arts on Palmer Square. This long-established store has been a favorite of Princetonians for many years, not only for its variety of gifts, but also for its distinctive framing service.

Bookends are not always easy to find, and Kalen's has an extensive selection, including many in brass in several designs. Horses, ducks, foxes, a bull and bear, comedy and tragedy masks, are all available, as well as a number of others in different styles and compositions. A pair of globe bookends with authentic maps is another excellent set for $135.

Another Kalen specialty is its collection of extra-special music boxes. A variety is on display, with boxes from Italy, Switzerland and Japan, and some combination jewelry and music boxes.

A superb, one-of-a-kind box from the United States is handmade, with carousel horses that move up and down as the music plays. A hand-written note on the bottom of the box from the designer says he hopes that whoever owns it will receive as much joy from it as he had in making it. It is available for $950.

There are also beautifully made Russian lacquer music boxes in exquisite designs in different sizes, and children's music boxes in several shapes and sizes are in stock at all prices.

Hand-painted Battersea enamel boxes are very popular items at Kalen's, and there is a wide selection, including a Halcyon Days Princeton tiger, with Nassau Hall on the inside of the lid. Made exclusively for Kalen's, it is $135.

The photo frames selection at the shop offers a wide choice. Wood, leather, metal, silk, ultrasuede, hand-painted porcelain, are among the different types of frames available. They come in many shapes and sizes.

Numerous Christmas decorations are on display, with an assortment of hand-carved wood, metal and glass ornaments, as well as the famous papier mache angels, similar to those which decorate the celebrated Christmas display in the Metropolitan Museum of Art. Hand made in Italy, they come in three sizes, at $29.50, $37.50 and $42.50.

Smaller angels from Italy include authentic reproductions of an original Fontantino sculpture and are $12.95.

Also from Italy, and made of papier mache, are the Three Wise Men. Mounted on camels, these are truly impressive figures, and make an elegant gift for $110 each, or $98 each, if the set of three is purchased.

A variety of vases and bowls and decorative pieces from China is also in stock, as well as other fine Oriental pieces. A 150-year-old ancestor scroll, featuring a still life design, is very special, and probably one of a kind.

Another antique piece is a warranted Staffordshire drainer in blue and white, for $825. Circa 1820, it depicts a cleric playing the fiddle at the head of a procession of merrymakers.

There are also very large heavy porcelain planters in Canton blue. In various sizes, they range from $245 to $800. Kalen's also carries an excellent selection of Williamsburg brass items, which always make popular gifts, as well as the very fine Lady Clare place mats from England. The Pimpernel mats and coasters are also found here.

The price range at Kalen's is wide, and many gift items are very affordable, including pink and blue alabaster boxes for $22.50, crystal bells at $36, a selection of snow shakers for $18.50, and a series of John Putnam's Heritage Houses from England. William Shakespeare's birthplace, Anne Hathaway's Cottage and Dickens' Old Curiosity Shop are among those available in the $18.50 to $20 range.

Kalen's also carries jewelry, including a selection of handsome American Indian jewelry, as well as sterling silver bracelets and lapis lazuli. There are Kalen's exclusive gold wrist watches.

Jade carvings, fine marble and wood pedestals, and cloisonne bowls and vases are other fine items. A very special piece is a lapis lazuli Russian presentation box, and there is also a selection of limited-edition paperweights from Scotland, from $5 to $200, as well as Meissen porcelain.

Kalen's also carries a lovely selection of Christmas cards, including Burgoyne and Brett, and those from the Museum of Modern Art. There are lustrous cards and embroidered cards nice enough to frame. A selection of antique paintings is also offered.

Gift certificates are offered, and Kalen's will be open extended hours for holiday shopping.

Fine Furnishings. A mainstay to shoppers seeking fine gift items and home furnishings, Nassau Interiors again offers a selection of distinction.

Handsome, well-made furniture has always been a specialty of Nassau Interiors, and this year, there are a number of interesting pieces. A beautifully made high-quality wing chair that reclines is available for $796. A comfortable club chair, suitable for living room or den, a nice selection of wing chairs from formal to informal, a leather chair and ottoman, a classic tufted leather Chesterfield sofa with a bed, and several desks, including a rolltop, are among the very specially priced pieces.

There are also a number of occasional pieces, including chairside tables, coffee tables, and console tables, as well as solid brass floor lamps.

A variety of fine porcelain lamps is also available, and Laurie LaPlaca of Nassau Interiors adds that any of the porcelain vases in the store can be made into lamps.

In fact, there is an especially extensive selection of porcelain including bowls, jars, vases and other pieces. Oriental porcelain in three or four different patterns and different sizes starts are $45 and is particularly striking.

Brass is always a big item at Nassau Interiors, and there is a full collection, including Baldwin solid brass doorknockers, $22 and up, and brass candlesticks and bookends. Also available are the Virginia metal-crafted trivets at $26. In different styles, such as William and Mary and Queen Anne, these are solid brass and carry the Colonial Williamsburg hallmark.

Mirrors are an especially attractive holiday gift, and there is a selection in many different designs, styles and sizes.

Decorate with Prints. Another specialty at Nassau Interiors is its assortment of prints. Its series of long-ago college and school scenes, including Princeton, Lawrenceville and Choate, is popular, as are the sports scenes of old-time baseball games and bike riding at $72.

Recently acquired are English prints, beautifully framed and matted, of botanicals and dogs, among others, in the $75 range.

The variety at Nassau Interiors can satisfy nearly any customer's tastes. Scrimshaw-style pewter flasks, with a hunting scene, golfer, or sailing vessel at $60, will surely please your sportsman. There are Irish marble bookends and desk sets, handsome snack tables, luggage racks and waste baskets, fun tassels for keys or handles on dressers for $15 and, special this year, lovely mohair throws in lavender, blue and white for $60, and cotton throws for $27.

Decorative wooden farm animals (pigs, cows and sheep) are available as well as rocking horses at $15 and $25, carousel horses and beautifully made duck decoys and loons in three different sizes at $50, $70 and $110.

A very striking piece is a Colonial Williamsburg tea caddy of solid mahogany with lock and key (for very special tea!).

related equipment can be a very welcome present.

Micro-computers (desk-top units) are Clancy-Paul's specialty, and the company offers an extensive variety of brands and types, including IBM, Apple, AT&T, Compaq and Panasonic.

Clancy-Paul provides one-stop shopping, selling computer supplies, including printer, paper, diskettes, anti-glare screening for monitors, and computer furniture.

Some Christmas specials include IBM Personal Computer with two floppy disks, a monitor and monitor board for $1,294. This is an unprecedented price, according to a Clancy-Paul spokesman, and in fact, is less than many of the IBM clone machines and the New York City discount prices.

Another excellent buy is an IBM color personal computer with a Sony Trinitron monitor, which has a TV tuner built into it and is cable ready. For $1,744, the customer is acquiring a TV set as well as a computer.

The first-time computer buyer will appreciate the most popular IBM compatible machine, the Panasonic Business Partner. It includes a computer monitor, Star printer, PFS First Choice software, word processor, data base, spread sheet and communications software. For $1,775, this is a super Christmas special.

All Apple products are on sale, and if you buy any Apple computer and printer, you will get a $250 rebate.

If you already own a computer, but want to upgrade to color, Sony color monitors with TV tuner and wireless remote are available for $449. These are especially effective with a Leading Edge computer.

Service is an important part of Clancy-Paul's philosophy. The system consultants are glad to advise people on all aspects of computers and their operation.

Customers can try out the computers in special consultation rooms, and classroom instruction is offered at Clancy-Paul stores daily, with classes for all levels of expertise.

Gift certificates are available (for the training classes also), and the store will be open Monday through Saturday until 8, and Sunday 12 to 5, until Christmas. Clancy-Paul suggests that to insure prompt service during this very busy holiday shopping period, customers call ahead for an appointment, thus avoiding a wait.

Cosmetic Headquarters. Cosmetics and perfume can be as appealing to women as toys are to children, and Impressions on Palmer Square offers make-up sessions, as well as a line of cosmetics, perfumes, gifts and jewelry.

All you need is an appointment, and a make-up artist will design a make-up exclusively for you. First, the correct cleanser, toner and moisturizer will be applied, depending on your skin type. The right shade of foundation is next, as well as appropriate eye shadow, mascara and liner. Then blush and powder are added, and you have a look that is all your own. This can be a very special gift at $20, and gift certificates are available.

Cosmetics and perfumes are available, including Germaine Monteil, Borghese (which encompasses the Montacontini line), and Lancaster, as well as Ann Steeger, a new line for Impressions.

Perfumes, such as Chanel's newest Coco, Joy, Fracas, Zarolia, Pheromone, and those by Nina Ricci and Jean-Louis Scherrer, among many others, are in stock.

Aftershave and cologne for men are also available, including Rothschild and Roger & Gallet.

An old-fashioned Barbershop kit for men includes soap, brush and razor, and a Barbershop mustache grooming set is also available.

Impressions also carries a home fragrance line by Claire Burke, including delightfully scented potpourri, candles and room sprays.

A special gift for women, including eye shadow, lipstick, blush and brushes, is offered for $13.50 with a Germaine Monteil purchase. Cosmetic brushes are also available, singly or in sets.

Other gift items include unique hair bows, in silk or designed with jewels, from France, elegant carpet bags from England in a variety of designs and colors, beautiful silk scarves which can be worn over the shoulder in numerous designs and colors, some in lame and metallic.

There really is a bit of everything, including hand-knit sweaters, fur hats, compacts for loose powder, and a lovely selection of hand mirrors, also from Paris. Handsome Rigaud candles from France come in two sizes, in red, green and blue, starting at $22.

Jewelry is a popular item at Impressions, and there is a nice selection in a wide price range. Earrings, pins and necklaces from France are all in demand, as are rhinestone-decorated barrettes for the holidays.

Impressions is offering a special raffle; after a purchase, just fill out a card, and you may be the recipient of a surprise gift.

For a truly glamorous and feminine gift, guaranteed to please, a gift certificate from Impressions can be a holiday remembrance.

The Cummins Shop on Nassau Street is a traditional favorite, not just at holiday time, but all year. Festively decorated, and with a wide choice of gifts, it is a must stop for holiday shoppers.

Once again, the store has its traditional display of colorful nutcrackers. In a variety of shapes and sizes, they are mainly from Germany and start at $10.98.

Oscar of Norway (1872-1907), exquisite Russian enamel silver (found only in museums in Russia today), dating to the early 1900's, a nearly life-size bronze prancing black stallion from England, an American Victorian shaving stand, art deco prints and lithographs by Erte — all these and much more are found in The Elegant Cottage at 15 Dutchtown-Harlingen Road in Belle Mead.

There is really something for everyone at this new shop, whose inventory consists of antiques, collectibles, jewelry and an art gallery. A variety of American and European antiques from several periods (Victorian, Edwardian and Art Deco), formal and country — and a broad cross-section of good-quality merchandise in a range of prices — is featured here. The store also carries an excellent collection of cut glass, crystal stemware and antique lighting, with chandeliers dating from 1880-1887 from old Main Line Philadelphia mansions on display.

The shop also features a Country Corner, which is distinguished by primitives, country furniture, such as a hard-to-find Shaker rocker in excellent condition (1875), a golden oak highchair combo which coverts to a rocker and a walker, and a number of collectibles, including old-fashioned scales, lanterns and lunch pails.

The Elegant Cottage also has a collection of jewelry with a large selection of vintage costume jewelry. Antique jewelry includes rings, stick pins, pocket watches and custom-made, one-of-a-kind pieces.

Antique beads, which have been re-strung, are very popular. Necklaces of fresh-water pearls, together with 14k gold and onyx, have an attractive, dramatic look. The costume jewelry, at $5 and up, includes pins, bracelets and earrings in a variety of styles.

The fragrance of candles and pot pourri is instantly noticeable as you enter The Elegant Cottage, and for the holidays, there is a charming craft section of the shop, filled with candles, dried wreaths and pot pourri. Co-owner Edythe Sinkowitz made many of the decorative wreaths (of dried straw and grapevine) and centerpieces, and they are a delightful addition to anyone's holiday decorations. They start at $9. Another gift idea is a small basket with a bit of pot pourri inside at $2.50 and up.

Mrs. Sinkowitz also calls attention to the old silver plate, antique doilies ($1 and up), and the series of daguerrotypes, more than 100 years old, from $25 to $35, as well as the old deeds with seals for $10. They are fun to frame for the den or office.

The second floor of The Elegant Cottage houses an art gallery. A large variety of art is represented, including wildlife by John Ruthven (an especially nice gift for a man), prints by Norman Rockwell, and by Erte and Icart from the art deco period. There is an especially nice selection of delicate Japanese woodblock prints for $125, in a variety of scenes, including birds, Japanese ladies and warriors. The shop also carries First of State duck prints and stamps, which appreciate in value every year.

Prices for the art start at approximately $100, and can go up to $2,000 and above for an Erte. Other prices range from $10 and up for collectibles, to $10,000 for some antiques. A number of items fall into the $150 and above range.

Hours for The Elegant Cottage are Wednesday and Thursday, 10 to 4, and Friday, Saturday and Sunday, 10 to 5.

Hamilton is inviting customers to see its array of beautiful items. The lighted display cases of jewelry and watches are nicely contrasted with the deep blue of the walls. The elegant and striking decor evokes a contemporary, yet timeless, quality, extremely well suited to the display of high-quality jewelry.

Necklaces, bracelets, earrings, rings (all the precious stones), and pins are all available in 14k and 18k gold. There is also a fine selection of sterling silver (jewelry, a range of serving pieces, candlesticks, baby items and picture frames — the last also in silver plate and pewter) and watches.

President Martin R. Siegel mentions Rolex, Ebel, Patek and Philippe among the watches, as well as the distinctive Bucherer watch from Switzerland.

There is an extensive gift line, including Baccarat and Waterford crystal, and Buccelatti silver, as well as china and Halcyon Days English enamel boxes. Gift items include money clips from Tiffany's and Tiffany clocks.

Mr. Siegel adds that Hamilton carries many well-known jewelry designers, including Angela Cummings, Elsa Perretti and Paloma Picasso. "We carry only the finest quality in 14k and 18k gold, and we excel in rubies, sapphires and diamonds," he says. "We feel we are leaders in the jewelry industry. We have been innovative in seeking out unusual and different products all over the world, always with the emphasis on the highest quality.

"And," adds Mr. Siegel, "personal attention to the customer is of the utmost importance. We are here to offer our service."

Hamilton carries estate jewelry, including unusual pieces and antique watches, and it has one of the largest collections of antique pocket watches on the East coast.

If you want something for that very special person on your Christmas list, Hamilton Jewelers offers a wide choice of elegant possibilities.

Gift certificates and gift wrapping are offered, and holiday hours are 9:30 to 6 Monday through Saturday, until 8:30 Thursdays and Fridays, and Sundays from 12 to 5.

Scandinavian Gifts. On the corner of Nassau and Harrison Streets, Contemporary Impact is filled with an intriguing variety of charming gifts from American folk art to Scandinavian antique furniture to delightful Christmas ornaments and decorations.

Pipes, Cigars and Tobacco

You can find just what you need for your favorite pipe and cigar smoker at Tom Pipecarver & Son at 4 Spring Street. A variety of pipes, cigars and tobacco is available at this charming, cozy shop, reminiscent of tobacco shops found in England.

An array of fine quality pipes from England, Denmark, Italy and Ireland as well as the U.S. are on display. Briar, meerschaum, including a selection of antique meerschaum pipes, and some clay pipes are available, from $15 and up, with a predominance of those under $40.

There is a complete line of imported tobacco, as well as many blends created by owner Tom Arcoleo, in both aromatic and non-aromatic varieties.

Cigar smokers will appreciate the Pleiades from the Dominican Republic which is "a delight and good or better than the Havanas available today," reports Mr. Arcoleo. tt comes in six sizes and its box has its own humidifying element.

Tom Pipecarver also carries a selection of other well-known cigars, including Partagas, Macamudo, Royal Jamaica and H. Upmann, as well as a number of others "that we've searched out and whose quality approaches the better known ones but at reduced prices."

Smoking accessories, such as lighters, pipe cleaners and pipe knives are also in stock, and Mr. Arcoleo emphasizes "that we sell combustibles and tobacco that one doesn't have to inhale to enjoy."

He also notes that since pipe smoking is such a personal thing, there is no problem about exchanges.

Gift certificates are available, and hours are Monday-Friday 9:30 to 6 and Saturday 9:30 to 5.

Impact is made even more pleasurable by the lovely aroma — a subtle, fresh scent — which permeates the shop. It is "Fresh Scents," a potpourri offering "A quiet alternative for a frantic world." At $2.95, this should appeal to many harried Christmas shoppers. Another interesting way to use this potpourri is to put a tablespoon in the vacuum cleaner, where the fragrance tasts for months.

Contemporary Impact carries a variety of folk art, including "Shadowdancer" primitive country toys. Long ago, these toys, fashioned from sheet metal, cast a shadow on the wall by the light of kerosene lamp. Nowadays, these reminders of times past are used as decorations, and a particularly interesting Santa is available for $28.50. Wooden folk art items include hearts, Christmas trees and Santas, which are often collectible.

Silkscreen Amish prints have been a popular item at Contemporary Impact, and there is also an authentic Amish cotton chamois goat toy for $18.75.

There are also handcrafted framed prints of ducks, bears, rabbits and sheep by Joan Gallup for $16.50, and the very popular series of photographs of Amish life and countryside by Bill Coleman for $54 and up.

A new shipment of Danish antique furniture has arrived, including armoires, chairs, tables and a charming antique child's bed, which extends as the child grows.

Also from Denmark are attractive candle holders with fat, round candles (red and white) which can be placed on the wall or on a table. There is also a variety of other candles from Denmark and Sweden.

CIGARS, PIPES AND TOBACCO highlight Tom Pipecarver & Son on Spring Street. Tobacco that doesn't have to be inhaled to be enjoyed is featured at this tobacconist.

Santas are everywhere — in all shapes and sizes. Roly-poly, tall and thin, tiny and elfin, they are displayed all over the store, and many are from Scandinavia.

A festive Christmas tree is decorated with an assortment of ornaments, including wooden, metal, fabric and handblown glass from the United States and Europe.

Other items include the Hometown Collection of pottery buildings (church, general store and houses) for $30, which can be an attractive table or under-the-tree decoration. Handpainted lamps from California are $63 and up, a selection of rag rugs in different sizes and colors start at $20. There are 100% cotton tablecloths, a variety of baskets and Mexican handblown glasses at $5.25.

Children will enjoy the great assortment of Teddy bears, including many hand made, and a series of sturdy wooden toys from Vermont (cars, trains, etc.) from $2.95 and up.

All ages will be intrigued by the "Secret Boxes." In a variety of sizes and woods, these boxes hold coins, stamps or any small items you wish. They are $6 and up.

Contemporary Impact is open 10 to 5:30 Monday through Saturday.

Jewelry & Crafts. On Main Street in Kingston, Full House is overflowing with a variety of gift items, from jewelry to art work to sweaters, scarves and decorative pieces and crafts.

There is also a selection of amethysts, which are very popular now, and black onyx necklaces, rings and pendants and also several pieces of lapis lazuli.

Co-owner Phyllis Kane reports that Full House has one of the largest jewelry selections in the area, particularly due to the fact that the work of 15 different artists is represented.

Pins have become popular again, she adds, and many are being sold, as are earrings. There are almost 1,000 pairs of earrings in stock.

Antique jewelry is also available, and a handmade, hand-painted porcelain pin (1880) and a handmade Etruscan-design pendant (1880) are two unusual pieces.

Handpainted leather necklaces and bright porcelains and glass necklaces from Greece and old coin earrings are unique gifts, and there is also a big selection of old European crystal from Austria, restrung into modern settings from $25 to $150.

A big selection of jet is available at reasonable prices, and pearls are popular too. There are lots of cultured Baroque pearls, and they are often worn with pendants for a different look. Sterling silver is another strong item at Full House, and there is also an extensive selection of men's cuff links.

Handknits. A variety of beautiful hand-knit sweaters in super colors and patterns is in stock, at $95 each, and there is also an assortment of wool, rayon and metallic and silk scarves. These are from all over the U.S., and represent the work of 20 different artists. They start at $28. A variety of styles, from large squares with fringe to hand-painted silk for $30, is available.

Also on display is a selection of lovely hand-painted wooden boxes. Painted in acrylic by a Princeton-area artist, Mariella Iacono, the boxes were made of exotic woods from Europe by her father. With scenes of Italy, the boxes are in different sizes at $48, $60 and $100.

Stained glass boxes by Jennifer Lenel are also popular. They use dramatic color combinations and unusual clasps. Creative and interesting, they are $28 and up.

Hand-blown glass pieces are popular at Full House, and there is a selection of egg paperweights for $15, superb hand-blown Christmas ornaments, including crystal lollipops and perfume bottles.

Stained glass mirrors are available, as are white fiber Christmas wreaths by Lisa Martin. They come decorated or undecorated.

Tapestry and lace photo albums by Julia Mann, and "paper bag" vases from Hawaii are also interesting gift items.

Children will enjoy the handmade wooden toys, including a fire engine merry-go-round. Finished with vegetable oil, they are safe if a curious tot decides to nibble. Finger puppets, including a mouse, lamb, whale, bear, etc., in different colors are entertaining gifts for $20.

The second floor of Full House contains an art gallery and a variety of other decorative and functional pieces. There are exquisitely colored hand-done glass vases at $65 and up, and fascinating candle shelters made of cut-out glass which create a myriad of shadows and light patterns.

Especially loved at Full House is its collection of stoneware whimsical rabbits in a variety of poses. Made by Jeanne L. Stevens Sollman, they have remarkable zest, and, as one customer remarked, "They can't help but make you smile."

Wooden boxes made by Michael Elkan of birdseye maple, which are really pieces of sculpture, are another specialty at Full House, and start at $95.

Baskets are in abundance, some featuring different materials, such as feathers or pine needles. There is an interesting variety of these well-made and unusual baskets.

Pottery and porcelain are in full supply — some functional (casseroles, ovenware, teapots) and some sculptural. There is an especially graceful porcelain pitcher in the shape of a penguin for $28.

A soft sculpture of a very real-looking Albert Einstein, wearing a sweat shirt with $e=mc^2$ and "It's all relative" on the front, relaxes on a chair, and many customers, thinking they're alone, give it a second look.

Other items include blue and white ovenware with scenes from Maine, picture frames made of many different woods by Steven Levine, and hand-made and hand-painted lamps and shades by Hsao Lau Mote.

THE CHRISTMAS SPIRIT pervades the atmosphere at Wit & Whimsy. The appealing shop on Palmer Square West features an assortment of clever, creative and fanciful gifts for the holidays.

Full House features six art shows a year, and includes the work of several artists. Presently on display are acrylic paintings and prints by Eiko Kahn, and vivid landscapes in watercolor by Anna Continos, starting at $85.

Work of quality that is unique and reasonably priced is what Full House stresses. "We try to have affordable art," explains Mrs. Kane. "In fact, our concept is to have affordable items in all categories in the shop."

Gift certificates and gift wrapping, as well as delivery of gifts in town, are offered, and hours at Full House are Monday to Saturday, 10-5:30, and, in December, Thursday and Friday until 8, and Sunday, 11:30 to 4.

Trees Plus Ornaments. Highlighted by its assortment of trees, shrubs and plants (specializing in perennials) and landscaping service, Ambleside Gardens and Nursery on Route 206 in Belle Mead is especially known this time of year for its unique Christmas and craft shop. People delight in the splendid array of Christmas trees (each decorated in a different theme), ornaments, decorations, toys and crafts.

"A fairyland come to life" is the way one happy customer described the Christmas Shop, and indeed, with the myriad ornaments and decorations, it does seem as if you have entered a special world.

The 13 Christmas trees are a visual delight. Decorated in different styles — one entirely with paper ornaments and streamers, one in a Victorian motif, and another called "The Blue Goose," with a variety of blue and white ornaments, including many ducks and geese — the trees can provide you with wonderful ideas about your own decorations.

Ornaments come in all shapes, sizes and types. Metal, wood, glass, fabric and feathers are some of the materials used, and they are from all over the world. There are tiny chimney sweeps, snowmen and mice eating cheese from Germany, charming ceramic ornaments (flowers, cats and angels) from Austria to hang in the window, large glittery mica snowflakes in assorted shapes for $5.99, hand-blown American glass balls with deer or birds inside, hand-blown glass snowflakes, large gold and silver balls, feather angels and tiny Santas with a pack from Austria.

Candle pyramids from Germany are lovely decorations. The heat of the candles causes a windmill effect, turning the top of the structure around and around. Some have Christmas themes, some fairy tales. A tiny one goes for $7.99; larger ones are up to $100.

There are lighted Mediterranean-style pottery houses with votive candles inside at $20 and up, and a variety of Dickens houses for $24.99.

Nutcrackers and music boxes from Germany are popular at Ambleside. A variety of sizes and types of these impressive nutcrackers range in price from $21 to $90.

Children and adults alike will be fascinated by a music box disguised as a fisherman in a boat. As the music plays, the fisherman smokes his pipe and the boat rocks. It goes for $75. Other music boxes have figures perched atop them which turn about as the tune begins.

Once again, Ambleside has a display of the famous Santon pottery figures. Characters from various villages in France, or members of the Nativity scene, they come in an assortment of figures and sizes. The two-inch size is $12 and the larger one, $50.

Another popular gift has been the Cat's Meow collectible wooden houses, suitable for display on the mantel or on window sills. A variety of buildings is available, at $7.99 each, or two for $14. Other fun wooden pieces are Arnold the pig and piglets. Hand-carved with copper ears, they are $60 and $29.99.

There is a big selection of Christmas tree lights, including small candle types at $12.95 for 35.

You may also find a variety of pine cones, berries, etc. to decorate your wreath or centerpiece, and there is also a lovely assortment of dried alpine flowers, including eidelweiss from Austria, in soft pastel colors at $5.99.

Bird houses and feeders, and oversized outdoor thermometers, are also popular holiday gifts, and Ambleside is noted for its fine selection of the famous Eskimo sculpture. Made of soapstone, these carvings, many of animals, are handsome gifts.

Always popular are the poinsettia plants in red, pink and white, starting at $2.39.

Christmas trees, wreaths, greens and roping are all available at Ambleside. Decorated wreaths, in a variety of sizes, start at $16 and are often made to order. Undecorated wreaths are $5.99 and up. Ambleside will also custom decorate your sleds or baskets.

A very large selection of trees is available, including small, table-top trees of blue and white spruce and white pine at $15.95 and up. Full-size trees up to 10 feet tall, of white pine, Fraser fir, concolor fir (great needle retention), Douglas fir, balsam and blue spruce, start in the mid-$30's, depending on the quality and size of the tree.

Live trees are also in demand, and Douglas fir, blue, white, Norway and Serbian spruce and white pine are all in stock, starting in the high $20's.

If you have a very small space, a little Alberta spruce or blue-green cypress would be suitable. Ambleside is open until 8 Monday through Friday, 9 to 5 on Saturday and 10 to 5 on Sunday.

And for the Men.... Classic, distinctive men's clothing is featured at Alan Royce on Nassau Street, and many fine gift possibilities are available.

A very big seller this season are suspenders or braces. Alan Royce has a large selection in a series of colors and patterns, starting at $25. Bow ties are back, too, and with tweed trousers and suspenders, the look is complete.

Another trend has been toward bolder patterns and stripes in dress shirts. Teal and dusty rose are fashionable accent colors, and men are enjoying this plunge into fashion.

Another new/old item is the nightshirt, and, again, it is selling. There is a selection of cotton flannel in plaids, solids and stripes, as well as robes in complementary colors and designs.

The fashion look is strong in sweaters, reports the staff at Alan Royce. Argyles in different color patterns are popular, as are stripes and the paisley look.

The basic wool solid Shetland is always popular at $45, and cashmere pullovers are available at $175. A selection of sweater vests in argyles, prints and solids is also in stock.

Ties are the traditional gift, but again there is a new look. The patterns are bigger, the polka dots are larger and offer more contrast to the background color. You will see green, rose and lavender in unusual color combinations. Paisleys are also extremely popular. Christmas ties in red and green are available, too. Mostly silk, ties are $22.50.

Topcoats are very strong this season after returning to popularity a few years ago. There is a dressier look today, and although no one has done away with the ubiquitous raincoat, the topcoat can offer a different, less informal, look.

Tweeds, wool and cashmere are available. A sheared beaver-color black topcoat starts at $295, and a single-breasted, raglan sleeve, belted European tweed look is another popular choice.

Sportcoats are always a big Christmas item, and now just about anything goes. There are many new patterns, with color in either the striping or in the pattern. A subtle blending of green, plum and lavender is one example.

Outerwear includes a variety of items, such as the bomber-type leather jacket, with or without fur collar, the water-resistant shooting jacket imported from Scotland, for $200, pig suede jackets, and a down-filled storm coat. A selection of raincoats is in stock, including the trench coat or regular style.

Color is the watchword in sport shirts, and Alan Royce has a great variety, including cotton flannels and soft colors and soft patterns, as well as the perennial plaids, at $35 and up.

There is a varied selection of socks in lambswool and cashmere, and argyles are again very popular. Wool, cashmere and silk scarves in patterns, solids and the traditional tartan are available at $20 and up. Gloves are always best sellers, and the shop carries leather, suede and knit.

The personalized look is in, and monogrammed blazer buttons, tie clasps, key fobs and belt buckles make individual gifts, but order by December 13.

Alan Royce is one of the few stores with formal wear, and medium-weight tuxedos are $375. New color ideas are appearing in cummerbunds and ties, and you will find yellow and red, among others. Plaid dinner jackets are also finding a niche.

Gift certificates and gift packaging are offered, and hours will be extended to Monday-Friday until 8:30, Saturday till 5:30 and Sunday 12 to 4.

Is There a Better Way For YWCA Registration?

To the Editor of Town Topics:

This is an open letter to the Board of Directors of the Princeton YWCA: It is time for some creative thinking to be done about registration.

Having girded my loins once again this morning to fight the good fight, I confess with shame and humility that I have lost. As of now, my children are not registered for the winter session (perhaps if I am properly repentant, Providence will grant that my wife redeem our honor by snatching at least a parent-toddler gym from the jaws of defeat on Monday) and I am here writing this letter instead of standing freezing on a line that's moving slower than my kids at bedtime.

Really, now, is there no better method? Martyrdom has gone out of style. The idea seems to be that the more you love your kids, the earlier you'll get up and the longer you'll wait in line, thereby deserving through your suffering that coveted place in your first choice class.

Yes, I know, the idea is to be fair — first come, first served and all that. But is it really fair to set up such an arbitrary hurdle? After all, not everyone can show up at 7:30 on a Saturday morning, even if they wanted to, and in any case the process is grossly and needlessly inefficient.

As just one suggestion, what about random numbers? Mailed applications received by a set deadline could each receive a number. The order of the numbers could then be determined randomly, either by a computer or a random number table, and the applicants put into classes in that order until each class is filled. Payment could be assured by requiring either a charge card number or a check with each application.

I also want to make the point, however, that one reason registration is such a hassle is that the 'Y' is so wonderful. All those parents are willing to rise and shine and stand and stand only because the programs really are terrific — the 'Y' fully deserves its reputation as a superb resource of our community, and the people there are doing a great job. (The people on line were doing a great job too, by the way. One rarely sees such well-behaved grown-ups.) All the more reason, then, for the 'Y' to clean up the only rotten part of its act — registration.

I do hope my suggestion will be taken seriously, or that another, better one will be implemented. It really is time for a change. All of us — victors and vanquished alike — will be more than grateful.

Patience Is Appreciated At YWCA Registration

To the Editor of Town Topics:

To all who registered at the YWCA last Saturday, thank you for your patience! We are trying to convert our registration to computers in order to serve you more efficiently in the future.

Saturday was a painful birthing process for a modern system. Please accept our apologies for the delays, our promise for improvement, and our heartfelt thanks for your support!

Vote of Confidence Given To Sgt. Anthony Gaylord

To the Editor of Town Topics:

I am writing to express my vote of confidence for Sgt. Anthony Gaylord of the Princeton Township Police Department for the drunken driving arrest he made of Joan Hill.

Late at night Sgt. Gaylord witnessed a car swerving down the road; he stopped the driver and gave two breathalyzer tests; both showed a .20 reading; the driver admitted to drinking that evening. As the law prescribes, Sgt. Gaylord issued a drunken driving summons.

In order to "beat the rap," the defendant is claiming that the arrest is racially motivated and was concocted to harass her. She is using her position as Civil Rights Director to reinforce this claim and it makes big headlines.

The bigger headlines should be that we want drunk drivers off the road. I hope that slick legal defenses and smear tactics will not intimidate our police departments from doing their job.

More Coverage Is Asked For Cross-Country Team

To the Editor of Town Topics:

In your November 19, 1986, issue, you condensed the entire Princeton High School boys' cross country season into one column. Your readers may have been interested in following this team more closely through a very successful season.

Mercer County has a number of competitive and talented cross country teams. This, coupled with dynamic coaching, led to several tremendous meets, where the final score was extremely close. Wonderful events for local newspaper coverage.

As you noted, PHS was first in the county, for both boys and girls cross country, and first in the state for boys section 3 size schools. In the exciting Meet of Champions, which took place on November 22, the boys of PHS came in seventh of all public and private schools in the state.

While I realize TOWN TOPICS does not intend to be a major sports newspaper for Princeton, the amount of coverage given to University and High School football does suggest some commitment to following local sports. Perhaps it is time to consider a more equitable approach to reporting on sports in Princeton.

Firemen Praised

To Editor, Town Topics:

On Monday, December 1, at 9:07 a.m. a fire broke out in the basement of Allen's Children's Shop.

Thanks to the quick response of the volunteer fire companies what could have been a devastating situation was resolved in a matter of minutes.

I would like to give my sincere appreciation to these volunteers for cautiously and swiftly terminating the fine.

Dean Will Step Down To Become a Professor

Joan S. Girgus, Dean of the College at Princeton University for the past ten years, will leave that office on July 1 when her current five-year term expires.

She will concentrate on teaching and research as a professor of psychology at Princeton and will direct a major science program that is now under development by the Pew Charitable Trusts. This new program will attempt to increase cooperation between selected major research universities and liberal arts colleges to improve science teaching through increased faculty development opportunities and expanded opportunities for involvement in research projects.

For the next four years, Dean Girgus will spend half her time directing the new Pew program, which will be located in Princeton and will begin actual operation this spring. The other half of her time will be devoted to her duties as Professor of Psychology. During academic years 1987-88 and 1988-89, she will be on sabbatical for this half of her time in order to catch up with developments in the field over the last ten years.

Joan S. Girgus

As Dean, Ms. Girgus was responsible for reorganization of academic advising, which integrated such advising for freshmen and sophomores into the residential colleges. She also played a central role in the establishment of freshmen seminars in the residential colleges, in the expanded use of computers throughout the undergraduate program, and in the encouragement of additional interdisciplinary initiatives at Princeton.

Dean Girgus came to Princeton in 1977 from the City College of the City University of New York, where she was Dean of the Division of Social Science and Associate Professor of Psychology. A graduate of Sarah Lawrence College with a Ph.D. from the Graduate Faculty at the New School for Social Research, she has been a trustee at Sarah Lawrence and a member of the Council of Overseers of Eugene Lang College at the New School.

BOB, THIS IS A BASKETBALL: A Seton Hall player appeared to be teaching Princeton's Bob Scrabis about the game, when the two landed on the floor in a scramble for the ball. Actually, the Pirates taught the Tigers plenty, in a 89-70 victory last Saturday night. (W.L. Bill Allen photo)

Tigers Fall to Seton Hall; Illini Classic Is Next

Seton Hall basketball coach P.J. Carlesimo got right to the heart of the matter in his post-game comments after watchng his team whip Princeton, 89-70 Saturday night in South Orange.

"Obviously, we have more talented players than Princeton," Carlesimo noted in his remarks to reporters. His most talented player, 6'9 Mark Bryant, didn't even suit up for the game, because of a jammed finger suffered in practice two days earlier, but there was more than enough talent to pick up any slack.

The Pirates, now 4-0, have won the last five meetings between these two teams, and the difference between them is just as obvious as the disparity in talent. When Seton Hall recruits basketball players, it's referring to rebounds when it asks about "board scores."

Coach Pete Carril, who doesn't have the talent he could recruit a decade and more ago, will work to get his players ready for the Illini Classic this weekend in Champaign, Ill. The Tigers will meet Illinois-Chicago at 9 p.m. Friday. Illinois will meet Baylor in the other match-up, with winners and losers playing off Saturday evening. Illinois-Chicago had a little trouble at Michigan last Saturday, losing 123-88.

The 2-1 Orange and Black (see below for report of the victory over Lehigh Mondoy night) will most likely be concentrating on defense, after what Carril saw Saturday. "Our defense was about the worst it's ever been," the coach declared. "We're putting no heat on the ball. There's no pressure. The guys we're guarding, we're not stopping from going to the basket.

"Turnovers are part of our game. If they only had eight against us tonight, it shows what was happening. We needed about 21 or 22 turnovers."

Carril well knows why his players need to create turnovers. It's to help neutralize the almost guaranteed discrepancy in rebounds against a taller team like the Pirates.

Using its height advantage, the home team had a 41-21 advantage in rebounds, including 14 off the offensive board, for second and sometimes third shots at the Princeton hasket. It helped break open what had been a close game early in the second half.

The Pirates' 6'8 sophomore forward, Darryl Walker, scored 20 of his career-high 31 points from close range in the first half, and forced the Tigers' 6'6 Alan Williams into three quick personals in less than four minutes. Still, the Orange and Black hung tough for the first 20 minutes.

Behind 39-27 with 3:24 left in the half, Carril's men scored 10 of the next 12 points, including two three-pointers by Mike Harnum, to close to 41-37 at intermission. With six minutes gone in the second, they were still behind by four, 57-53, but it was lights out after that. The home team went on a 13-2 tear, which included a technical on the Princeton bench.

Despite his foul trouble, Williams finished with 19 points, while Bob Scrabis turned in another decent performance with 17. It's not often a Princeton team scores as many as 70 points and loses, but even less often that it gives up as many as 89.

The last time that happened was a 90-73 loss to Duke in 1975, but that team, led by Armond Hill and Mickey Steuerer, went 22-8 and finished by beating Holy Cross, South Carolina, Oregon and Providence to capture the NIT.

As mentioned earlier, a decade or more ago Carril was able to recruit real talent.

Scott Stars as Princeton Rallies to Defeat Lehigh

It's nice to see the Princeton basketball team keep at least one streak alive from a bygone era.

In the last decade or so, the Tigers have been knocked around in football and basketball by a lot of teams they would never have lost to maoy years ago. Perhaps, that helped Ever wonder why post-season football games are called "bowl games"? ... The words "bowl games" came into our language when Pasadena's originally-named "Tournament of Roses" game moved into a new, circular bowl-shaped sladium in 1923 ... A publicity man renamed the game, and the stadium, the "Rose Bowl" ... After that, other post-season games called themselves "bowl games" even though many of them – oddly enough – aren't played in circular bowl-shaped stadiums.

inspire the Orange and Black to its comeback 72-62 triumph over Lehigh Monday night in Bethlehem, Pa.

Old Nassau had won 13 consecutive contests from the Engineers, dating back to 1930, but it was on the verge of seeing that streak end midway through the second half. With just over 10 minutes left, the home team was ahead by seven points, 50-43, holding on to a lead it had had since the opening minutes. The Orange and Black had been struggling to keep pace.

But, Princeton turned it all the way around at that point. The Engineers did not get another field goal until the Tigers had the game safely tucked away, 68-59. Meanwhile, Joe Scott, who scored a career-high 22 points, sparked a rally that put the Tigers ahead 53-52 with a little over five minutes to play. They steadily increased their advantage after that.

Scott was six for nine in the second half, scoring 19 of his points in the final 12 minutes. In the first half it was Alan Williams and Bob Scrabia who did the work, as Lehigh worked to a 30-26 lead at the intermission. The senior center contributed 14 of his 20 points in the first 20 minutes, and Bob Scrabis played another steady game with 13.

However, the biggest delight for coach Pete Carril was the play of Tim Neff. Inserted into the line-up early, when Dave Orlandini picked up three personals, Neff made up for two seasons of nothing, with 11 points, the first of his varsity career. Injured as a freshman, Neff saw virtually no action last year as a sophomore, but he now appears ready to contribute to this improving team.

"There's a guy that hadn't played but a handful of minutes before," said Carril. "Yet, tonight he showed all the confidence in the world."

The outcome, against a team that should challenge for the East Coast Conference title this year, should give a boost to the team's confidence as well, after the loss to Seton Hall.

"That was a damn good win for us," observed Carril. "We came in with no confidence. We had to find out how to win. We'd forgotten it, but we found it again tonight."

ROLLING OVER W&M: Junior Chris Adkins drives paat a William & Mary player in first-half action Friday night in the Princeton Women's Invitational Basketball Tournament. Tigers defeated the Indians, but lost in the finals to Seton Hall.

Maybe, the Tigers can take some of that confidence along to Illinois this weekend.

Seton Hall Women Win In Basketball Here Also

Princeton got a double dose from Seton Hall in basketball Saturday night, and a bitter one it was.

While the men were losing handily in South Orange, the women fared no better in Jadwin Gym in the finals of their own tournament, losing 72-49.

The Orange and Black had reached the finals of the two-day affair with a 66-52 triumph over William & Mary on Friday, while Seton Hall blew out Richmond, 88-71.

Now 3-1, Princeton will play twice more in Jadwin this week, meeting Delaware on Wednesday and Brooklyn Friday, before heading south to play Stetson and South Florida on December 17 and 18.

Poor shooting hurt the Tigers against a solid Setoo Hall team, and the Pirates surged to an 18-point lead at halftime. Cathy Roberts was held in check, scoring just six points. The visitors' pressing defense rarely allowed the ball to get inside, and Princeton shot a dismal 33 percent from the floor.

In Friday's victory over William & Mary, Roberts led the way with 22 points and 18 rebounds. The visitors managed to sneak in front at the half, 25-24, but when the second period got under way, the Tigers took command.

Freshman guard Sandi Bitler added 14 points for coach Joan Kowalik's team.

League Play Will Begin For PU Women's Hockey

The Princeton women's ice hockey team is hoping the experience it gained in seven tough non-league contests will serve it well in Ivy competition this winter.

The Tigers were scheduled to meet Yale in their first league encounter this past Tuesday night. After that contest, they will break for the holidays, and not resume action until January 3.

Winless in its first four games against solid oppooents like McMaster, New Hampshire and Northeastern, coach Bob Buell's skaters ran into more good teams in the secood annual Providence Christmas tournament last weekend. Still, they came away with one win, one tie and one loss.

The loss came in the final game Sunday against a 6-1 Providence team that outshot Princetoo 33 to 14 on the way to a 3-0 shutout. Sue Gouchoe's fine play in the goal prevented a more lopsided score.

The victory was a 10-1 rout over Colby on Saturday, sparked by a four-goal performance by Sue Finney and two by Gina Pietrangelo. Colby managed to tie the Tigers at 1-1 at 10:42 of the first period, but Finney's goal a little over a minute later sent the Orange and Black on its way. Gouchoe had just three saves in this one.

On Friday, RIT and Princeton tied 2-2 midway through the second period, and neither scored again either in third or an overtime session. RIT, led 1-0 at the end of one period, but goals by Sue Morrison and Kathy Saavage, both assisted by Pietrangelo, put Princeton briefly ahead 2-1 in the second before RIT tied it. Gouchoe recorded a dozen saves.

Tiger Skaters Come Back Without Win in Two Tries

A blowout in Troy, a heartbreaker in Burlington. Two vastly different games, but the same sorry result was posted both nights for the Princeton hockey team last weekend.

A pair of victories over Army 10 days ago, had sent the Tigers off winging on a two-day road trip, where they hoped to gain at least a split in games with RPI and Vermont. It didn't happen.

The Orange and Black proved to be no match for the Engineers Friday night, losing 7-1 to a team seeking to rebound from a pair of losses on its home ice the previous weekend. Saturday, it was on to Vermont, with a determination not to roll over and die a second time.

The determination showed all right. Coach Jim Higgins' skaters fought back from a 4-1 deficit in the second period, and clung to a 5-4 lead with less than four minutes remaining. Then disaster struck; the Catamounts tied the game with one goal and won it with another in less than a minute. On both scores, Vermont forwards were left uncovered in front of goalie Dave Marotta. They added an empty netter with three seconds to play for a 7-5 triumph.

The pair of losses knocked Princeton from its seventh-place perch in the ECAC standings back down to ninth — one spot below where it needs to finish to gain a playoff spot. Army rebounded from its pair of losses to Princeton, and gained the split the Tigers were seeking. It was bombed 7-0 by Vermont Friday, but upset RPI in Troy the following evening. The Orange and Black hasn't learned how, but it is possible to win on the road.

Right now the 5-5 tie with Dartmouth is hurting Princeton the most. If it had won that game, it would be tied for eighth. The playoff outlook is not bright at this point, and is further dimmed by the loss of forward Joe Ross.

He recently underwent surgery for a knee injury, and is lost for the season. Another forward, Chris Tatum, suffered a similar injury against RPI, and may follow Ross to the sidelines for the rest of the year. If so, one of the defensemen will probably have to move up to forward, and the Tigers will go with five players on defense.

The ECAC wars will be put to one side for the next few weeks, and will not resume until the first weekend in January, when Princeton will play Clarkson and St. Lawrence at home on January 2 and 3. The Tigers will be back in Baker Rink this Friday and Saturday nights for a pair of games against Bowling Green, one of the top 10 teams in the country. Both games start at 7:30.

The Falcons, whose season started in early October, have already played 18 games, and won 13 of them. Last year they finished 28-14, and lost only one letterman out of 22. Princeton has played Bowling Green only once, losing 6-4 in 1971 in the Cleveland Cup tournament.

Two weeks later, after a short Christmas break, Higgins' squad will travel to Ohio for the Schweppes Invitational Hockey Tournament with Alaska-Anchorage, Miami (Ohio) and Ohio State.

Defense Hurting Tigers. So far this season, the weak spot for Princeton is the defense. With the exception of Army, opponents have been averaging six goals a game. Vermont, for example, took only 25 shots against Dave Marotta, but scored on six of them. That's not going to help his save percentage.

The bright spot has been the play of some of the freshmen, who are contributing sooner than might have been expected. Greg Polaski had two more goals and an assist against Vermont; Bart Blaeser had two assists. With sophomore John Messuri getting a goal and two assists, the Polaski-Messuri-Blaeser line has accounted for exactly half of Princeton's points so far, 33 of 66.

Against Vermont, The Tigers found themselves down early for the second night in a row, but did not fold this time. Sophomore Chris Hughes' goal near the end of the first period cut a 2-0 home team lead in half. The Catamounts came out strong at the start of the second also, and led 4-1 after just 3:09.

Messuri got one back at 7:59, assisted by Jamie MacPherson, and John Rocco cut the deficit to just 4-3 with less than a minute left in the period. That momentum carried over to the third, and Polaski got his first at 1:09. His second at 13:12 put Princeton ahead for the first time.

The Tigers could not hold on, however. Vermont tallied at 15:10 to tie, and won the game 52 seconds later. Marotta was pulled in favor of an extra skater at the end, but to no avail.

Over Early in Troy. It was all over early the previous night in Troy, as RPI tallied four times in the first period, the first goal coming just 10 seconds into the contest. Trini Iturralde picked off an errant pass in Princeton's end, and fired the puck by Marotta from point-blank range.

Later in the period the Engineers wrapped up the decision with three goals in just over three minutes, from 8:04 to 11:18, all on power plays. The home team followed with two more, also cashing in on man-up situations, two minutes apart midway through the second for a 6-0 lead at the end of two.

With less than two minutes remaining in the one-sided affair, the Tigers managed to avoid a shutout when freshman defenseman Jim Sourges scored, assisted by Jamie MacPherson, and another freshman, Greg Polaski. But RPI wasn't through, adding insult to injury with a goal at the 19:57 mark. This one came against Dave Shea, who had replaced Marotta at the start of the third period.

RPI outshot the Orange and Black by a margin of almost 2-1, getting off 40 shots to 21 for Princeton. The Tigers led in penalty minutes, however, with 45, and that was really the sad story of this contest.

The winners made good on five of 15 power play opportunities, and gave up just that lone goal long after the game had been decided on the last of Princeton's 10 times with a man advantage. Obviously it doesn't help if the referee assigned to the game by the ECAC is a resident of Troy, but anytime the Tigers get in a penalty-filled contest with a good skating team like RPI, they are going to lose, and lose big. Over the past several years, it has happened more times than one cares to count.

Comizio Wins Bushnelt Cup

Rich Comizio, who led the University of Pennsylvania to its third straight league title, has been voted the winner of the Asa S. Bushnell Cup by the Ivy coaches.

Comizio, the third consecutive Penn player to win the award, given annually to the league's best player, holds both the single-season (1,104 yards) and career (2,479 yards) records for rushing at Penn.

Second in the balloting was Cornell defensive tackle Tom McHale, who finished with 21 points, 10 behind Comizio. Dave Fielding of Brown was third with nine points; Chris Flynn of Penn and Kelly Ryan of Yale tied for fourth with five points.

The award has been given every year since 1970. The only Princeton player to win it was Walt Snickenberger in 1974.

Dartmouth's fine wide receiver Craig Morton, who may rewrite all Dartmouth and Ivy records for pass receiving before he graduates, was a unanimous choice for Ivy rookie of the year.

PDS Boys Hockey Opens With 5-5 Tie against ND

With a little luck it might have been an opening-game victory, but the Princeton Day boys' hockey team could not quite hold on last Friday on its own ice, and had to settle for a 5-5 tie against Notre Dame.

This Friday, the Panthers will be back on the ice against Rye Country Day at home; the following Monday they will meet Academy of New Church, also at home. An away contest will be December 19 against Hopewell Valley at Mercer County Park. Coach Graham Cragg's team is seeking to improve upon its 5-12-1 mark last winter.

The Blue and White began well against Notre Dame, notching its first goal with just 48 seconds gone in the first period. Don Shaffer got it, assisted by Jamie Knill and Matt Lustig.

There was no more scoring in the first, but when the second began the visitors were ready and tallied three times in the first four minutes. Two of the three were power play goals, scored with Jon Bylin off the ice for a four-minute penalty. Shaffer's second score of the game, assisted by Lustig and Cliff Hilpert, came with just 11 seconds left in the period, and narrowed the deficit to 3-2.

Bylin brought PDS even less than two minutes into the third, but when Lustig was called for a major penalty a few minutes later, ND again took advantage of its extra skater and went ahead 4-3. Once he got back on the ice, Lustig atoned for his sins with PDS's fourth goal, coming with the Panthers two men up, to deadlock the contest again.

And when Hilpert tallied with 3:41 left, assisted by Mike Cook, it looked like the Blue and White might pull this one out. That thought lasted less than a minute, however, as Notre Dame produced its fifth goal of the contest.

PDS enjoyed a big edge in shots on goal, but the Notre Dame goalie was particularly effective at stopping the low shots that came his way. Cragg said he had stressed keeping the puck low all week to his players so that the puck would at least be on the cage, and have a chance of going in.

At the other end, junior Matt Lucas, who volunteered to be goalie this winter despite no previous experience, did a decent job in his first outing ever. Cragg felt his players got caught up ice too much in the second period, when ND scored three times, but overall, he was pleased with his team's first effort.

Other Teams to Begin. The Panthers' boys basketball team, coached by Mike Herr, kicks off its season this Wednesday against Rutgers Prep away. The Argonauts have already begun, beating Hun in their first game.

This weekend, the Blue and White will again enter the Peddie Tournament, for its final action before Christmas.

Herr, who suffered through an 0-8 football season, largely because so few players turned out, will have his problems in basketball also. Just 21 players, including 12 freshmen, showed up for the varsity and jayvee teams. The only returning varsity player is senior Mo Kimble, who started at guard last year.

Brian Cribb and Paul Goldman are junior guards up from the jayvees; the remaining juniors are Steve Cohen, B.J. Matelson and Collins Roth. The tallest player on the team is 6'1 sophomore Dan Milstein. It could be a long winter after a long fall for Herr, and the 6-11 record achieved last season may be difficult to match.

The girls' basketball team, coached by Cheryl Silva, will also see tournament action Friday and Saturday in the Stuart Tournament. The girls will be looking to improve on a 4-11 season a year ago.

Hun Skaters Sunk, 8-5 To Even Record at 1-1

In a penalty-marred contest, in which both teams were whistled for 66 penalty minutes, the Hun School hockey team was defeated by Hightstown, 8-5, at the Mercer County rink for its first loss after an opening win last week over Hopewell Valley.

Forty-two of those penalty minutes were against Hun, prompting Ram coach Bob Gundstrom to complain about what he viewed as the rough play by the Raiders. "This type of game is what gives hockey a bad name," he said.

Hun trailed 2-1 after the first period, as Pete Van Vranken scored his first goal of the season. In the second period, Paul Hopkins scored for Hun and Joe Doktorski added his first goal of the season, but Hightstown tallied four times, mostly on power plays.

Van Vranken, who sat down the longest for Hun, with 16 penalty minutes on seven penalties, including a four-minute major for slashing, scored again in the final period for Hun but the Rams also scored twice to preserve their second win against no losses.

Princeton Team Is at 3-0 In CJ Hockey League

The Princeton-based Central Jersey Hockey team increased its overall record to 3-0 last week with a see-saw, 8-7 victory over Monsey, N.Y. in a non-league game at Baker Rink. Steve Cook lead the victors with four goals.

The team's next game will be a league contest Saturday at 6:15 against the Essex Hunt Club in Far Hills.

Cook got the first goal of the game 12 minutes into the contest. Three unanswered goals in the last four minutes of the period, two more by Cook and one by Colie Donaldson, gave the Central Jersey club a 4-1 lead.

Goals by Arch Reid, Cook and Donaldson gave the victors a 7-4 margin after two periods. In the final period, Monsey cut the margin to 7-6, and with six minutes left, Mike Mooster, on a nifty move, tied the score at 7. With four minutes left, Monsey had an extra man on the ice but some fine play by CJ goalie Eric Monberg (36 saves) and the CJ defense kept the visitors off the board.

With two minutes left, John Cook, who had four assists, scored the game-winner, and his only goal, on an assist from Reid.

Hun Matmen One of 16 In New Hope Tourney

After two opening dual meet setbacks, two things have surfaced quickly pertaining to the Hun School wrestling team.

The Raiders are weak in the middle weights and heavyweight Niels Rector is headed for a memorable season. Hun coach Dave Faus will have an opportunity to try to shore up middle of the lineup this weekend when Hun competes for the first time in the 16-team New Hope Tournament in Solebury on Friday and Saturday. Rector with two pins in two matches, including an upset over Lawrenceville heavyweight P.J. Melnick Saturday, will get a chance to increase his personal string.

Faus predicts there will be some good competition in the New Hope Tournament which is comprised mostly of schools from Pennyslvania. It is good opportunity, he said, for some of the better wrestlers who hope to do well and gain some early tournament experience.

That would certainly include Rector, the PG student from Mendham. Rector's pin in 3:48 of Melnick registered on the Richter scale of wrestling upsets. Melnick had fashioned a 20-3 record last year, was second in the Prep School Nationals and had attended a three-week, intensive training camp this summer at Iowa, home of the nation's number one collegiate team.

No wonder that Melnick and Larry coach Tom Murray, the former Princeton High mentor, are looking forward to a rematch in the Mercer County Tournament.

"He's tough," said Faus of Rector. "He's got a pinning instinct. He's a real aggressor." At 205, Rector, added Faus, is lean without an ounce of fat. He termed his win over Melnick as "a big upset."

In an opening match against Admiral Farragut, in which Hun was edged, 33-32, Rector pinned Evan Bergstrom in 4:04. He is joined by teammates Dave Glassberg, Josh Waxman and Terry Gold, the freshman 98-pounder from Long Island, as unbeaten after two matches.

Although Hun was not at full strength in its 46-18 loss to Lawrenceville, Faus admitted the outcome was not as good as he had hoped. The Raiders were forced to forfeit the 105-pound match where veteran Steve McNally has had trouble making weight and the 170-pound class where Rob Cobun has been sidelined with a deep shoulder bruise. "He's only 70 percent and may not go until after Christmas," said Faus of Cobun whom, he says, is the class of the area. Erased by the forfeit was an anticipated bout between Cobun and Joe Labadia who was 11-5-1 last year.

Doug Snyder, Who Once Played for Carril, Will Coach Princeton High Basketball Team

The Doug Snyder era in Princeton High basketball begins this month.

Snyder, a history teacher at PHS and former Princeton University player under Pete Carril, takes over the reins from former coach Marv Trotman. Not an easy task.

Trotman was a legendary player at PHS in the 50s and a college player of national renown. From the very beginning as a coach, since replacing Larry Ivan in the middle of the 1971-72 season, Trotman was flamboyant, controversial, a winner, a loser, open, complex — and highly visible.

Snyder, Trotman's assistant for the past four years, will not be another Trotman. Doesn't want to be.

"I'll never be able to fill Trotman's shoes as far as being controversial," agreed Snyder. "I'm not going to suck on any lollipops and the referees will be safe from me." But the lower-key Snyder made it clear that he is going to be his own man.

"Things will be different," he promised.

One thing to go will be the fast-breaking offense and pressing, man-to-man defense that were Trotman hallmarks.

He intends, Snyder said, to compensate for the lack of a big center by introducing a passing game where every player gets to handle the ball. "We have to utilize our speed but sometimes you can't do it all the time, especially against teams like the Trentons, the Ewings and the McCorristins."

At times, Snyder acknowledged, the team will have to do some pressing and fast breaking, but not exclusively. When it comes to tight games, he stated, that style of play can work against you when you have to work for an open shot.

From last year's 6-15 team, Snyder loses Marvin Trotman Jr., the leading scorer in Mercer County last year with a 22.5 average (Snyder reports Trotman has been red-shirted as a freshman at Howard University in Washington, D.C., and there is a 90 percent chance he will get a full scholarship next year) and Rob Bosley.

On this year's 13-man varsity, seven are returning lettermen. "I've coached most of these guys on a jayvee level, so I'm familiar to them," said Snyder. "I'm not someone coming in cold from the outside.

"I loved every second when I took over last year. I'm really looking forward to getting that first game taken care of, to see how we do. To see if they respond to me as a head coach as they did as a jayvee coach."

Snyder served as head coach for the last six games when Trotman was out of town for two games and then abruptly quit with four left to play. Snyder won four and lost two.

The team will open its season at home next Friday, December 19, against Hopewell Valley High School.

Snyder listed two goals he has set for himself and the team. The first is to be competitive with every oppooent on the schedule, including, yes, Trenton and Ewing. Against a team like Trenton, for example, Snyder said he doesn't want the Little Tigers to go in with the attitude of just showing up. "I'd like to knock off Trenton or Ewing."

The second goal is to make the state playoffs.

For his first season, Snyder has been dealt a strong hand. He welcomes back Mike Riddick, a 6-1, 215-pound tailback on the football team, who had a 10.5 average last year, and who will give the Little Tigers strength under the basket. Tim Rumer at 6-3 and a 7.5 average was one of the top rebounders last year. Peter Paris, 5-11, 8.7 average, is a good outside shooter and in two returning juniors, 6-0 John Thompson and 5-11 Darius Young, Snyder said he has some quickness.

Things Will Be Different

Also back is burly Pat McKellar, who, like all the players above, was a member of Princeton's successful 7-3 football team this fall. Another from last year's varsity is 6-3 Brian Trelstad.

Four seniors up from the jayvee team, all about six feet tall, are Corey Allen, Bill Byrne, Dave Gross and Nerva Jean-Louis, the latter a sprinter on the track team. "He's fast and what a jumper," said Snyder of Jean-Louis.

He added: "When you throw all these guys in — it's just a pleasure to have these guys come out and work with them."

A transfer student is Lowell Fitchett, who started on the Ewing jayvee team last year as a sophomore and who has, said Snyder, good skills. Fitchett's appearance just adds to the interest to see who will start, smiled Snyder.

As far as Snyder is concerned, everyone has an equal shot at starting. Most on the varsity, he said, are evenly matched. "I don't know who is going to win a varsity job. There is a lot of high intensity but nothing is set. I don't know who will start."

Snyder has an annual tri-scrimmage scheduled with Freehold and Jackson, another with Vailsburg High out of Newark and two others with Franklin and New Brunswick — all strong teams in the past. "We may be 0-4 in scrimmages but it will get us prepared for the season," said Snyder.

Although there is room for optimism for the Little Tigers this season there is also the reality that the area is loaded with strong contenders.

In the Valley Division where PHS competes, Snyder noted that West Windsor had 24 players attend a summer camp at Trenton State and predicted that the Pirates will be strong again this year. "McCorristin always gives us trouble — always."

Continuing down the list, Snyder took note that PHS lost to Nottingham in the summer league, adding the North Stars to the list of teams that could give the Little Tigers trouble, and Lawrence High has Chuck McKay back, one of the top scorers in the county last year.

"We're certainly not a favorite for any division title," summed up Snyder.

Ptayed for Carril. Snyder brings a solid background in basketball to his job as head coach.

After playing his high school ball in Allentown, Pa., Snyder played three years at Princeton University, his sophomore year under then-assistant coach Bob Dukiet. Dukiet later moved on to the head coaching job at St. Peter's and this year was named head coach of Marquette University, the NCAA national champions about a decade ago.

In his junior and senior years (1976-77) he played guard for Carril where, he recalled, at 6-2 he was the second smallest player on the team. "A lot of things I do, especially on defense, are lifted right from Carril," said Snyder. "Man-to-man, taking good shots — the same concepts."

Snyder revealed that he has also hired a new jayvee coach, Tom Poetter who played the sport at Heidelberg College in Ohio. "He's given me some good thoughts on offense and on drills. He's been quite helpful," said Snyder.

One more coaching plus has been the return of the freshman team. Last year, freshman coach Ed Beacham had to sit out the season because not enough candidates showed up. This year about a dozen candidates responded and Snyder commented, "It's a relief to have the freshman team back."

No Team Captain. Snyder has declined to name a team captain for the season. Instead, he said, he plans to name a captain for each game.

Gold got Hun off to a 3-0 start when he decisioned Rich Piani of Lawrenceville, 8-2. McNally, wrestling up a weight at 112, dropped a 13-4 decision and from 119 through 138 Lawrenceville recorded four quick pins to put the match out of reach.

Waxman stopped the Larry surge with a 10-3 decision over Larry 145-pounder Dave Sigourney. With the score 46-6, Hun put 12 points on the board when Glassberg flattened Andy Schmitz in the first period (1:31) and Rector followed with his impressive fall. Glassberg, co-captain of the Raiders with Cobun, was 11-8 last year but 10 of those 11 victories came on falls.

The one-point loss to Farragut earlier in the week peeved Faus because Hun lost a match it should have won. Failure of two Hun wrestlers to make weight, plus a mixup at 105, amounted to, Faus maintained, a swing of 18 points in Farragut's favor.

It's still early in the season, observed Faus, who reported he expects some of his wrestlers to be able to make weight easier when each class limit advances two pounds in January.

"The attitude is good; we're working hard as a team. We just have to get some victories on the board."

Winners for Hun against Farragut were Gold on a 7-6 decision; Brad Carris, 1:51 pin at 126 pounds; Waxman, 3:17 pin at 145 pounds; Cobun, 17-4 superior decision at 167 pounds; Glassberg, 3:42 pin at 185 pounds and Rector, 4:04 pin.

The mixup for Hun took place at 105 pounds where McNally failed to make weight by a ¼-pound. McNally went up to 112 where he pinned his opponent in the first period. However, because of a mixup, the referee, after much debate, ruled that McNally would have to wrestle the regular 112-pounder from Farragut at the end of the match.

"All he had to do was avoid a six-point decision," said Faus, "but he had nothing left." McNally was the a technical fall victim to George Gagis in 52 seconds and that won the match for the Future Admirals.

Women's League Planned At Indoor Tennis Center

The Mercer County Park Commission will begin a ladies doubles tennis league at the Mercer County Indoor Tennis Center in Ewing Township. It will run for 12 weeks, starting in January.

There will be two divisions: an intermediate (3.5 and under) division on Wednesday and an advanced (4.0 and over) division on Fridays. Times for league play will be at 10:30 a.m., 12 noon or 1:30 p.m. depending on the schedule. For complete details, call 883-5768.

Worthy, Teel Pace Hun In Win Over Lakewood

Led by the Trenton connection of Steve Worthy and Chris Teel, the Hun School basketball team made its home debut an impressive one by coming from behind Monday to defeat Lakewood Prep, 76-59.

Worthy, who had 45 points in Hun's first two games, tossed in 23 points, while 5-6 "Spud" Teel contributed 17. Both began their basketball careers in Trenton.

Worthy, at 6-3, 195 pounds, is only 16, but the sophomore swing man plays like a senior the way he has dominated the Raiders attack with his powerful play. Teel has emerged as the team's point guard and floor leader.

The visiting Gators, playing their season's opener and Hun for the first time ever, took no note, however. The visitors jumped to a 16-9 first-period lead and were ahead 30-27 at the half.

Hun's lacklustre play drew some pointed halftime comments from Hun coach Pat Kahny. "You look like you are going to a funeral," he told his players.

Hun averted its demise by erupting for 29 points in the third, including the last nine in a row, to take the lead for good. "We started to play some defense," said Kahny.

Hun kept up the pressure, outscoring Lakewood in the fourth period, 20-11, for its second win in three games.

Veteran Andy Monfried joined Worthy and Teel in double figures with 10. Kevin Byrnes and Mike Knox of Hun combined for 15 more points.

Alex Sherard of Lakewood led all scorers with 26 points. Teammate Tom Rideux added 21, as no other player for the visitors scored more than five points.
